SWEETHEART, WIFE DEPUTY SHERIFF AND HUSBAND MEET

Result, Thomas McRay Is in Jail and Two Women Are Sad.

MARRIED MAN WAS TO ELOPE

WOMAN HE WOOED LEARNED THAT HE WAS WED.

Angered, She Revealed Plans to His Wife and Together They Set a Trap Which Caught the Unfaithful One.

When Thomas McRay went to the ladies' waiting room of one of the big department stores at noon Wednesday to keep tryst with Mrs. Vera Welker, with whom it was planned he was to elope, McRay's wife, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Clem Goodwin, were waiting for him, and when McRay stepped forward to greet Mrs. Welker Deputy Sheriff Goodwin stepped forward and placed him under arrest.

It was on the information filed by Mrs. Welker that McRay was arrested on the warrant charging him with wife abandonment. Womanlike, as soon as she saw that Welker was in trouble, Mrs. Welker's sympathy went out to him and she said she would do all she could for him until his guilt was proven beyond doubt.

McRay is 38 years old, and he has for nearly two years been in the employ of the terminal company. With his wife, Rose McRay, and their two children, Joe, 13 years old, and Viola, 2 years old, they lived at 1717 Papin street.

Waited for Woman to Get Divorce.

Mrs. Vera Welker, the other important actor in this strange domestic entanglement, was married in St. Louis less than three years ago to Charles Welker. Shortly after they moved to Chicago, where the drink habit fastened on him, his wife says, and she returned to St. Louis three months ago and instituted divorce proceedings against him.

Shortly after she came to St. Louis she met McRay, who represented himself as a single man. He was assiduous in his attentions, and, when she told him that she was married, but that her divorce was pending, McRay proposed marriage to her, and said he would wait until the divorce suit was settled.

McRay, who is a rather handsome man, and prepossessing, called regularly on Mrs. Welker, and he bought her a handsome ring and placed it on her finger, she says, binding her to become his wife as soon as she was freed legally from Welker.

It was arranged that she was to return Wednesday night to Chicago, where the divorce suit is to be tried soon. McRay was to accompany her. Mrs. Welker admits that she had learned to love McRay, and she was more than willing to wed him as soon as she could be freed from her husband.

Tuesday afternoon she confided in a friend her plans. This friend told her some things that caused her air castles to vanish, and the result was that the aid of the law was invoked, and now McRay languishes in jail, while Mrs. Welker is uncertain as to her future movements.

Friend Told Her Wooer Was Married.

The friend whom Mrs. Welker confided in told her that McRay was married, and that he lived with his wife and two children at 1717 Papin street. Mrs. Welker lived at 429 South Twelfth street. It was nearly dark when she was given the information. She hastily changed her dress and hurried to the address given her, and was astonished when she met Mrs. McRay.

She told her the object of her visit. She said that McRay, posing as a single man, had won her love, and said she had promised to marry him as soon as she could procure her divorce. Mrs. McRay was horrified. She had noticed that her husband had been less attentive of late, but she attributed the change to other causes. He had told his wife that he was going to Chicago, where he expected to get a better position. As soon as he was settled he would send for his wife and children.

Mrs. McRay, as soon as she was convinced that her visitor was telling her the truth, told Mrs. Welker the story of how she had married McRay and convinced her that she was truly his wife.

Wife and Sweetheart Talked It Over.

Then the two women talked it all over and it was agreed that a meeting between husband, wife and the woman to whom McRay had made love should be arranged. Mrs. Welker said that she would make an appointment with McRay to meet him at the waiting room of one of the big department stores at 11 o'clock Wednesday.

Early Wednesday morning Mrs. McRay with her baby in her arms called at the warrant office and related to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Johnson the case. A warrant charging wife abandonment was issued. The warrant was given into the hands of Deputy Goodwin and he hastened with Mrs. McRay to the trysting place.

Mrs. Welker was late in arriving. She hurried through the throngs and approached Mrs. McRay and told her that her husband was down on the street. Mrs. Welker, Mrs. McRay and Goodwin walked down to the street. Mrs. McRae and Goodwin remained in the background, and Mrs. Welker beckoned McRay. He approached.

Just as he was about to greet her Mrs. McRay, holding her baby in her arms, stepped forth. Her lips quivered and her eyes blazed as she noted the glad look in his eyes as he had gazed on Mrs. Welker.

MURPHY MURDER AT LITCHFIELD A DEEP MYSTERY

No Theory Suggested Fits the Known Facts.

ROBBERY IDEA UNTENABLE

REMARKABLE MARKSMANSHIP DISPLAYED BY ASSASSIN.

The Coroner Is Investigating Every Circumstance of the Tragedy and Has Found Some Facts That He Will Not Yet Reveal.

By a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., Sept. 4.—The murder of Sylvester Murphy, a wealthy farmer who lived two miles from this city, at 8 o'clock Monday night, is a seemingly impenetrable mystery.

Murphy was shot through a window of his house while he was lying on a couch reading. Although one of his lungs was shattered by a large iron slug fired into his body he was able to rise and stagger out on to a screened veranda used as a dining room. His wife, who was in a small detached brick kitchen about 50 feet from where her husband was shot, ran out on to the veranda in time to see him fall at her feet with the exclamation "O God! I am killed!" He died immediately and she ran screaming from the house to the farm of Scott M. Palmer, about one quarter of a mile away. Other neighbors were aroused by her screams and hurried to the house, where they found the dead body of Murphy where he fell.

NO THEORY FITS THE FACTS.

Various theories to account for the murder have been advanced by persons familiar with the facts and the life of Murphy. The one most generally believed is that the motive for the crime was robbery.

Murphy was a man of considerable wealth, inherited and acquired. He owned a farm of 220 acres on which is one of the best farm houses in the region. He was a man of exceptional business ability and a close farmer. As a result he made a great deal of money, and his investments included farm loans and bonds of various sorts. He was chary of depositing his belongings in banks, and always carried a considerable amount of money on his person and kept it in the house. Persons whom he employed and from whom he made purchases were in the habit of seeing him take from his pocket a big roll of bills with which to pay them.

He had been repeatedly warned by his wife and friends against his habit of keeping money and notes in his house, and was advised to leave the lonely farm and live in town, because of the danger of robbery, and possibly murder.

He invariably scoffed at such advice and said he could take care of himself and defend his home against robbers. But he bought a small iron safe and kept his valuables in it. It sat in a corner of the bedroom he occupied.

Not long ago he promised his wife that as soon as his crops were all in he would move to the town house. To that end he had talked with a marchant of Litchfield about furnishing it in good style.

HIS HOUSE AN ARSENAL.

He was known as a man of determined character, fearless and well able to protect himself in all matters. His house was a perfect arsenal. After his death his neighbors found in his house 13 loaded weapons of various sorts. In one corner of the room in which he was killed stood a loaded shotgun and a rifle. Under the bed he usually slept in were four loaded revolvers. In the parlor was a loaded Remington rifle. On the stairway leading to the upper part of the house were four loaded weapons and in an upstairs room were two more. Evidently he had a mania for weapons, but at the same time he had the determination to guard himself from robbery.

It is not known how much money he had in the house. His safe was found locked by the neighbors and officers after his death, and the authorities will not yet permit of its being opened, but it is thought that a large amount of money and loan notes will be found in it.

MARVELOUS MARKSMANSHIP.

That the murderer was familiar with the interior of his house and his habits there can be no doubt. The manner in which he was shot proves this, as well as the remarkable marksmanship displayed. It is a marvel how a person could have fired the shot and struck home.

Murphy was lying on a narrow couch in a room that is an addition to the house, and used as a dining room in winter. At his head was a window, and between it and the head of the couch stood a sewing machine. He had just finished supper, having returned from an afternoon spent in baling hay. His wife had placed a lamp on the sewing machine, and had given him the Chicago papers, which had come that day by mail, and he was reading the quotations of the Chicago hay market, as he was about to make a large shipment there. His wife left him and went into the brick kitchen addition, just off the screened verandah on which they had eaten supper. She was washing the dishes when she heard the crash of the gun that killed her husband.

When she ran screaming out on to the veranda her husband emerged from the room in which he had been reading. He was staggering and swaying. He advanced toward her and when he reached the end of the supper table fell on his face with a crash. His wife dropped to her knees beside him and lifted his head. Then he exclaimed that he had been killed. She turned him over and looked at him. His shirt was wet with his blood and he was bleeding terribly.

Running into the room Mrs. Murphy caught up a bottle of spirits of camphor and bathed her husband's head with it. In a moment or two she realized the futility of this, however, seeing that her husband was dead. Then she ran screaming from

STILL TO BE FAIR AND COOL

Immediate Prospects, Dr. Hyatt Says, Point to Very Little Change—Indian Summer Is Due.

Still fair, still cool, still no signs of the belated summer.

Such is Dr. Hyatt's view of weather conditions. He says it will be fair and cooler Wednesday night and Thursday. After this time, he surmises, the "law of averages" may commence to even things up, and add zest to the closing week of the summer gardens.

Still, the frost belt is closing in on St. Louis. Wyoming, Colorado and Montana took on a frost coating Wednesday morning, and in the last-named state the small boys are sharpening their skates.

From the upper lake region, where Mackinac reporters are, has come the promise of a "low," which will bring warm weather. There will be no chance for the "low," however, until the present "high" has been dissipated.

Rains are still deluging the territory south and east of St. Louis. At Vicksburg, Miss., the pavements were given a thorough washing by the elements, and in Virginia towns the same thing happened.

EDWARD BUTLER DIDN'T APPEAR

Summons to Court for Violation of City Ordinance at the Standard Theater.

Edward Butler was summoned to appear in Judge Sidener's court Wednesday morning to answer to a charge of violation of the city ordinance in regard to obstructing signs over streets. The specific charge was concerning the sign at the Standard Theater.

Butler himself was not present, but his attorney, Harry Walsh, was. Leo Reichenbach, manager of the Standard Theater, when asked to give his testimony, stated that he was in the employ of the Empire Circuit Co. of which James J. Butler, son of Edward Butler, was president, but that he did not know who was the owner of the Standard Theater. The summons for Edward Butler was then dismissed.

DESIRE TO AID WOMAN COSTLY

Peter Karst Helped Find Address and Was Set Upon by Robbers.

Peter Karst of 2033 Market street reported to the police that he was robbed of $180 about 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, through his willingness to accommodate a woman who asked him a favor.

He says he was walking on Eighteenth street when a woman with a satchel, apparently a stranger in the city, asked him the way to Washington avenue. He was bound in that direction himself. The woman asked if she might not accompany him. They walked together to Locust street, when the woman said she wanted to go to Twenty-first street.

Karst says he walked thither with her, and at Twenty-first and Locust streets he was set upon by two men, who, after a scuffle, took his money.

The police have arrested Graham Smith, who lives near Twentieth and Pine streets, on suspicion, and are looking for a woman who is supposed to have been one of his accomplices.

PRESIDENT INJURED AND ONE OF PARTY KILLED BY A STREET CAR

Carriage Was Overturned, Hurting Executive, Secretary Cortelyou and Gov. Crane Slightly, Killing Secret Service Agent Craig and Badly Injuring Driver Pratt.

WITNESS SAYS THAT THE MOTORMAN WAS SPEEDING HIS CAR

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 3.—An electric car, going at full speed, struck and overturned the carriage in which President Roosevelt and his party were riding, near Pittsfield, this morning, throwing the occupants violently to the ground.

The President was slightly bruised about the body and his face was scratched by stones in the road.

Special Secret Service Agent William Craig was instantly killed.

Gov. Crane of Massachusetts and George B. Cortelyou, the President's private secretary received slight bruises and cuts. Driver Pratt was seriously hurt.

After a short visit to the home of Former Senator Dawes in Pittsfield, the President started on the long drive to Lenox.

CAR WAS RUNNING FAST.

After leaving Senator Dawes' house the four carriages containing the President and immediate party were driven down South street, two carriages on either side. When near the Country Club, and at the railroad crossing, an electric car was noticed coming at a terrific rate of speed.

Mr. Craig signaled to the motorman to stop, but he apparently paid no attention to the warning, and the car went plunging on and crashed into the vehicles.

A witness of the accident stated that the motorman was speeding his car in order to reach the club.

The President, Gov. Crane and Secretary Cortelyou were piled up in a heap. The crowd which witnessed the accident rushed to the President's carriage with no expectation that he would be found alive.

The President was cut on the right side of the face, which is much swollen. He was also bruised on the body.

SCENE OF ACCIDENT.

The accident happened at a point about a mile and a half from this city near the Pittsfield Country Clubhouse.

The President was enjoying a coaching trip from Dalton, Gov. Crane's home, where the President spent the night, to Lenox, a distance of 20 miles over the Berkshire hills.

The car was in charge of Conductor James Kelly, with Motorman Luke J. Madden on the front platform.

The car struck the carriage in the rear and smashed in the back of the vehicle, tipping it over and throwing its occupants to the ground. The car was not badly damaged.

Motorman Madden and the conductor, Kelly, were at once arrested and taken to Pittsfield.

Pratt, the driver of the coach, was taken to Pittsfield and placed in a hospital.

WOUNDS WERE DRESSED.

The President, who, in falling from the carriage, sustained only bruises and a few scratches, and Secretary George B. Cortelyou, who suffered similarly, with the exception that he was cut on the head, with the other members of the party, went to the Country Club nearby, where their wounds were dressed.

In a short time they proceeded to the Curtis Hotel, at Lenox, arriving there at 11 o'clock.

The President retained his usual composure, although he was solicitous for the rest of those in the carriages.

The excitement was intense, and rumors flew thick and fast that the President had been killed.

After remaining at the scene of the accident an hour, the President determined to continue his journey to Stockbridge.

After a brief stop at Lenox, he was driven to the train, in the next carriage to the President's, when the accident happened, was Dr. G. A. Lung of the navy, who accompanied the President to render assistance. But the President was disinclined to receive medical attention, saying he was but slightly hurt.

The President's program today included a journey from this state through Connecticut, and he was to stop at Lenox and Stockbridge and Great Barrington in Massachusetts and at New Milford and Bridgeport, in Connecticut.

At Bridgeport the yacht Syiph was to meet him and take him back to Oyster Bay.

The accident, however, probably will cause a change in the intermediate stops from Lenox to Bridgeport, the President proceeding directly there and at once embarking on the Syiph for Oyster Bay.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

path of the car.

The military guard of four mounted men of the Second Massachusetts Infantry were the first to get at the wreck. They were at once assisted by Secret Service Agent Taylor, and Postoffice Inspector Meyers, detailed on secret service duty, who were in the second carriage. The President was helped to the second carriage, with Secretary Cortelyou, and they were at once attended by Dr. Lung, who was in the third carriage.

The President at once directed that Craig's body be cared for, and sent couriers ahead to prevent cheering and to announce that he would go at once to his train, which had been sent ahead to Stockbridge. The President stopped for a few moments at the Hotel Aspinwall, where the party was to have lunched, and made a brief announcement of the accident to the people who were silently gathered on the steps. He alighted from the carriage and walked a few steps, and was clearly under the stress of great feeling.

Then he retraced his steps to the carriage and turning said to the people:

"We have met with an accident. One of the party, a faithful friend, has been killed, and our driver undoubtedly fatally injured. Under the circumstances it is, of course, impossible for me to say more to you than that I deeply appreciate your kindly greeting."

Then he went on to Stockbridge.

William Craig, the secret service operator who was killed, was 48 years old, weighed over 200 pounds, and was more than 6 feet tall. He was a former member of the Queen's Grenadiers, and was an expert broadswordsman. Years ago he gave exhibitions with Duncan Ross, and was credited with many victories over him. Craig caught and arrested a crank at Montpelier, who was attempting to reach the President in his recent trip.

PRESIDENT TALKS OF ACCIDENT

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 3.—President Roosevelt arrived in Stockbridge shortly before 12 o'clock, having driven leisurely across the country from Lenox. The people had turned out to give him a welcome, but the news of the accident had preceded him. His face was badly swollen, and he was no doubt suffering pain, but not to disappoint the crowd, many of whom had driven some distance to see him, he stopped long enough to say a few words. He spoke as follows:

"I presume you have heard that our party met with an accident in which one man was killed. Therefore, I shall not address you beyond thanking you for your kind reception and request that you make no applause or demonstration of any kind."

The President went immediately to his train, which left as soon as he got aboard.

The President was calm and collected, and deplored the death of Craig.

"He was the most faithful man I ever knew," said he. "My children fairly worshiped him."

When Craig saw the impending danger and saw that a collision could not be averted he was heard to say "O, my God!" and then he was knocked through the air and fell under the car, his body being mutilated almost beyond recognition. On the right of him was the driver, Pratt, who was thrown a distance of 25 feet.

The President asked the motorman "Why were you running your car like that?" which brought only the response: "Because I had the right of way."

The President said that when he saw the car coming with such terrific speed he felt that all in the carriage would surely be killed.

Gov. Crane suggested that the best thing for him to do would be to go to his train at once. Another carriage was procured and in company with Gov. Crane, Secretary Cortelyou and Representative Lawrence the start was made for Lawrence. [illegible] time the President reached the [illegible] ple of the town were in a state of consternation. The swelling on the President's face was getting greater all the time, but he kept his apartment at the Curtis Hotel, where he referred to the matter, assuring the people that he was not hurt and requesting that

CRAIG'S WARNING UNHEEDED

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 3.—A gentleman who witnessed the accident says:

"The trolley car was coming up behind the President's carriage at terrific speed. The carriage was struck as it was crossing the tracks diagonally.

"Craig, who was looking around and half-standing, trying to warn the trolley car back, was knocked from the box to the track and the car passed over him. The carriage was knocked to one side and wrecked.

"The President was thrown out and the wreck of the carriage fell against him. He was picked up bleeding from a cut on the right cheek, but he was able to get on his feet at once. Secretary Cortelyou was unconscious when picked up. He was badly hurt on the back of the head and cut on the face, but soon recovered.

"Gov. Crane was badly bruised and Representative Lawrence was the least hurt of any of the party in the President's carriage." The driver of the carriage, D. J. Pratt, was very badly hurt. He fell with Craig, but the reins swung him out of the

SACK OF TOBACCO WHICH WOMAN FORGOT CAUSED SUICIDE

Mrs. Robert Eckert Wanted to Live After Swallowing Carbolic Acid.

MAN TRIED TO PREVENT DEED

PETTY QUARREL ON LABOR DAY CAUSE OF THE SUICIDE.

Woman Went to See Parade Alone and When She Returned Dispute Was Renewed and She Swallowed the Poison.

A petty quarrel with her husband and the receipt of a letter conveying intelligence of her mother's death combined to produce such despondency in the mind of Mrs. Sophia Eckert of 2246 Gilmore avenue, that she killed herself with carbolic acid.

Mrs. Eckert died at 9 o'clock Tuesday night at her home, surrounded by her husband and children and deeply repenting her act.

She took the poison at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening.

Monday morning her husband, Robert Eckert, a car builder, with whom she had lived happily for seven years, remained at home, as it was Labor Day.

Mrs. Eckert had occasion to go to the grocery. Her husband requested her to buy him a package of smoking tobacco. Mrs. Eckert forgot to make the purchase and a quarrel ensued. Later she went down town to witness the Labor Day parade.

During the day Mrs. Eckert had received a letter from a relative in Copenhagen, Denmark, notifying her that her mother was to undergo an operation for cancer and probably would not survive. The news caused Mrs. Eckert great despondency.

Swallowed Drug Before Husband Could Prevent.

When she returned home the quarrel of the morning was renewed. Mr. Eckert says that he thought good feeling had been reestablished. His wife went upstairs and he followed. She entered the room first and rushed to the dresser, from which she picked up a bottle of carbolic acid.

She raised the bottle to her lips and drank a portion of its contents before her husband could interfere. He knocked it from her hand, but she had swallowed enough to injure her fatally.

The two children of the couple, 4 and 6 years old, witnessed the act.

Mr. Eckert immediately called a physician, who at first thought the patient would recover.

The attempt at suicide was not reported to the police. Coroner Funkhouser first heard of Mrs. Eckert's death through a letter received Wednesday morning from the physician who attended her.

TAX RECEIPTS BREAK RECORDS

Tuesday's Collections $1,347,872.46—City's Share $387,000 in Largest Check Drawn by Collector to Treasurer.

The largest check ever issued from the city collector's office to the city treasury was handed Wednesday morning by Collector L. F. Hammer, Jr., to City Treasurer James Franciscus. Its face value was $387,000.

The enormous sum denoted by the check is the city's share, including that of the school board, of the record-breaking tax receipts of Tuesday, the first day of tax collections. The total receipts for the day amounted to $1,347,872.46. The difference between this amount and that which goes to the city is turned into the state treasury.

The rush of taxpayers on the first business day of September was due to the collector's offer of a discount to those who paid their taxes promptly. The largest bill was that of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., $147,206.01.

WORSE THAN RICE AND SHOES

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hynes, Just Wedded, Had Placards in Railroad Train.

"Charles Hynes and bride are on this car. Please don't make too much noise. Take good care of us. We have just been married. We are going all the way to Denver."

So they were going all the way to Denver, but Mr. and Mrs. Hynes wished that their friends had omitted telling their fellow-passengers all about it by placing placards in every seat of the car in the Burlington train on which they commenced their bridal tour at 2:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

They had had barely enough time to reach the train and their friends had arrived there ahead of them in sufficient numbers to place the cards describing them in the hands of everyone on the car.

"This is worse than throwing rice and old shoes," the bride complained. "Why couldn't they be content with a good old-fashioned joke like that?"

"Never mind," the groom said. "We'll be back here some of these days. But if I had this to do again I'd go to Belleville."

Before the train had started the newly wedded pair had won the sympathy of their fellow passengers, and were allowed to enjoy each other's company in freedom from the amused glances which had greeted them when they entered.

Mr. Hynes lives at 3636 Evans avenue, and his bride, who was Miss Anna M. Weber, lived at 3306 Easton avenue, where the wedding took place at noon Tuesday.

ST. LOUIS GAINED 25,000 IN A YEAR

School Attendance Shows Increase in Population.

1554 MORE CHILDREN HERE

YEAR BEGAN TUESDAY WITH 61,842 PUPILS.

Supt. Soldan Believes That Before the Term Is Far Advanced There Will Be Much Larger Increase.

The 93 public schools in St. Louis opened Tuesday morning with an attendance of 61,842 pupils, 1,554 more than were in attendance the first day of last year's term.

These figures indicate that the increase of population in St. Louis within the year has been about 25,000.

Supt. Soldan believes that before the term is far advanced there will be a much larger increase in the attendance, which will show that St. Louis is growing rapidly in population.

In addition to the 93 school buildings there are 27 portable schoolhouses for use to prevent overcrowding. Supt. Soldan expresses the belief that all the children can be accommodated without using the entire supply of portable structures.

One new plan to prevent overcrowding, evolved by the school board, is known as the double-time session. One teacher will take charge of certain classes in the forenoon and another in the afternoon.

Each pupil, for the opening day of school, cost the city 16 1-5 cents. It is estimated that the daily expense of conducting the schools this year will be $10,000. For the 200 days of last year's session the city paid $1,681,907.

Recitations on the First Day.

Remarkably good work was done for a first day. Classes were organized and some recitations were heard. Ordinarily it requires two or three days to organize the classes.

In the new Emerson School, in which several smaller districts are combined, most of the teachers and pupils were strangers to each other. This school opened smoothly, the classes were organized in the morning, and in the afternoon the regular routine of school work was begun.

Superintendent Soldan and his assistants spent the entire day in visisting schools. Before night reports of attendance began to reach the superintendent's office. Comparative figures for last year and this year follow:

CARDINAL GIBBONS ILL.

Distinguished Prelate Has Calculus and Operation May Be Necessary.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 3.—Dr. Donovan, Cardinal Gibbons' physician, has not yet been able to tell whether it will be necessary for him to perform an operation on the distinguished prelate.

When the cardinal went into retreat last week, he was taken with severe pains and was supposed to be suffering from lumbago. Local treatment for this ailment, however, failed to bring the desired relief, and the ... an expert in kidney and bladder ... was enlisted. It was then ascertained that the cardinal was suffering from calculus, the passing of a stone from the kidneys to the bladder, and it all depends now upon the size of the obstruction whether an operation will be necessary or not.

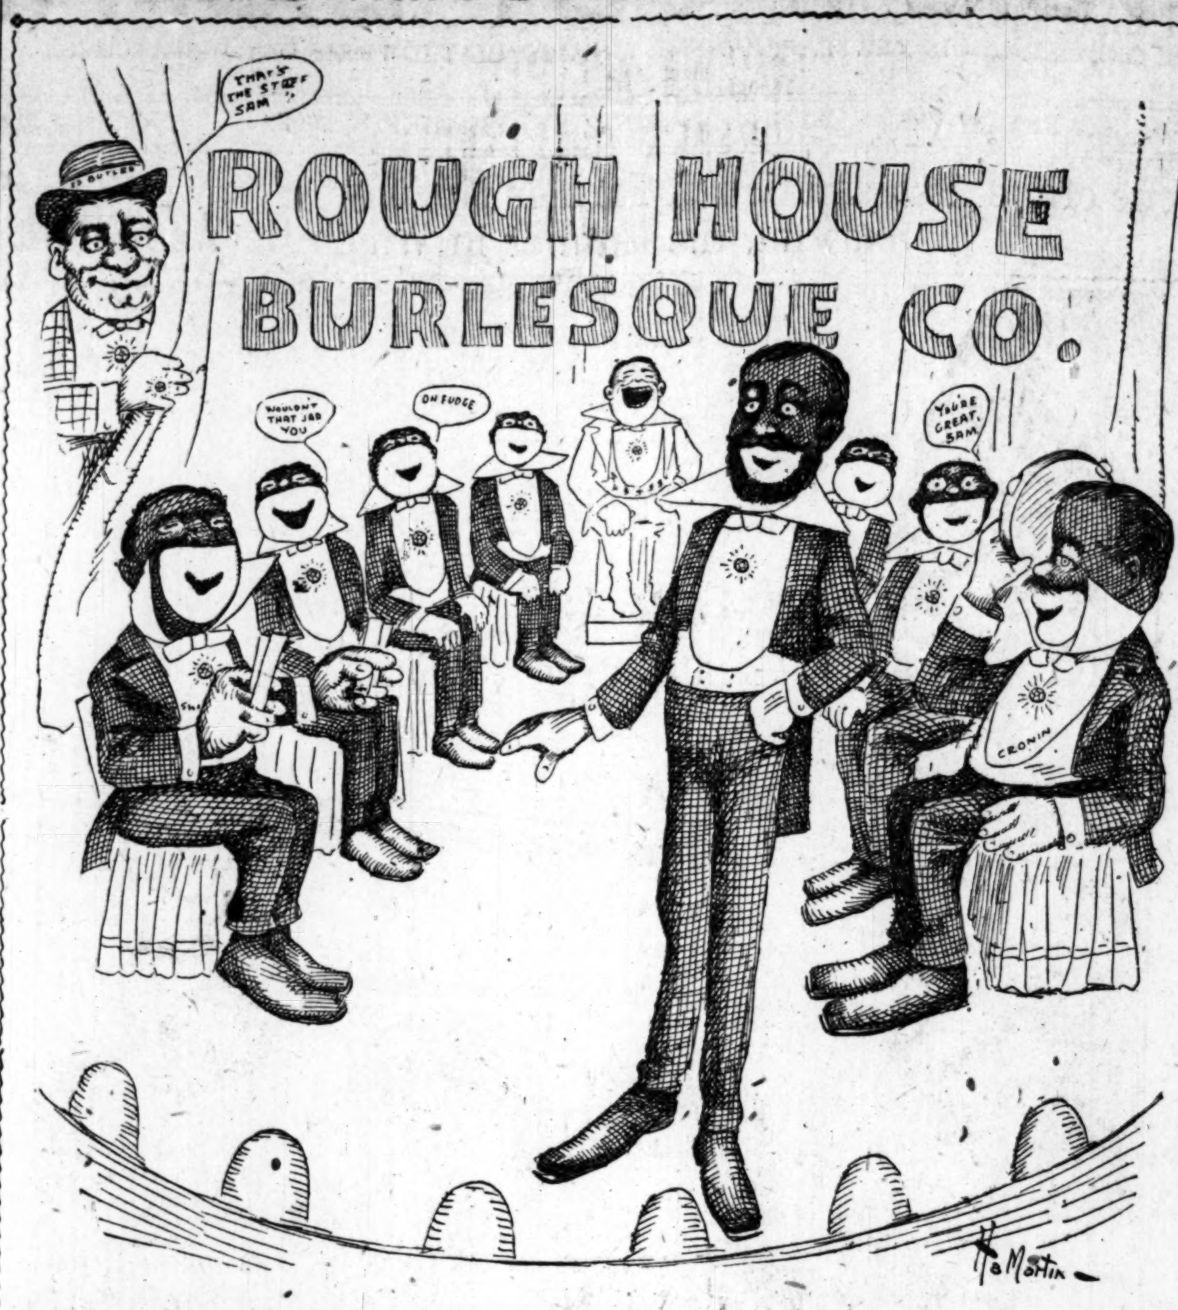
THE MIN-STER-REL MEN.



Interlocutor Koeln (author of "Ten Nights in a Barroom"): Good evening, Mr. Sweeney. Nice (Butler) Indian summer weather we're having now. Convention will be held this month, you know. By the way, that reminds me of something. Can you tell me, Mr. Sweeney, why, when he gets to be justice of the peace in the Fourth District, Mr. Cronin will be like a first-class tailor?

Mr. Sweeney: Because he'll be a good judge of suits.

(Cries of "Oh, mercy!" "Ain't Sweeney a wonder?" "That boy is just naturally smart!" "Dockstader can't beat them gags!")

Interlocutor Koeln: Good boy, Johnnie! Now let me ask you a question, Mr. Cronin. What is the difference between the display window of a shoe store and an election day in St. Louis when the "Indians" are at work?

Mr. Cronin: Ah, now, Eddie, you are getting right down to where I live! Why, I was raised on that kind of stuff. What is the difference between the window of a shoe store like—O, this is so easy! Why is the window of a shoe store and an election day in St. Louis when the "Indians" are busy? Why, one is full of boots and shoes and the other is full of shoots and booze.

Interlocutor Koeln: Quite right, Mr. Cronin, quite right. You are a great observer. Mr. Stannard will now sing that "touching" ditty, ever popular with statesmen, entitled, "If You Ain't Got No Money, Well, You Needn't Come Around."

SWEETHEART: WIFE AND HUSBAND MEET

McRay, when he saw his wife, blanched, then turned red.

"This is the way you treat your wife after having been married to her for 14 years, is it?" Mrs. McRay inquired, indignantly.

"Well, what are you going to do about it?" said McRay with an air of braggadocio that he failed to sustain.

Before Mrs. McRay could reply Deputy Sheriff Goodwin clapped his hand on McRay's shoulder, and said:

"You are under arrest, and you will accompany me to the Four Courts."

"Who are you, and what right have you to interfere here?" said McRay.

"I am an officer and this is a warrant for your arrest. You are charged with wife abandonment."

"Well, I will go with you, but I am not married to that woman and never was."

Goodwin led McRay off to prison; Mrs. McRay carried her baby back to her home on Papin street, and Mrs. Welker went in still another direction to her home.

"I can hardly believe yet that he is married to her," said Mrs. Welker to the Post-Dispatch. "He swore solemnly to me that he was free to marry me as soon as I was free to marry him. Even after I heard that he was married I asked him and he denied it. I will wait and see certain before I give him up."

Mrs. McRay said that she married McRay in the Indian Territory 14 years ago. At that time he was a sergeant in Company B, Fifth Cavalry. She was employed in the household of Maj. Hoff, a surgeon in the United States army. After he left the service McRay became a Columbian guard at the Chicago fair and afterwards went on the police force. Later he went to Kansas. They came to St. Louis a year ago last April.

"Hooliganism" in London.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—"Hooliganism" is again rampant in several districts of South London. The criminal records abound in daily lists of outrages committed in the chief thoroughfares by organized bands, yet no amount of publicity or police supervision appears to have any effect in diminishing the ruffianism.

SIX "MELICAN" MEN BANQUETED IN HOP ALLEY BY CLESTIAL JEU TOM

Feast Was in Honor of Departing Chinamen, Who Are to Return to Their Native Country.

THE MENU.

Yin-go-gong (bird's-nest soup).
Ngee-chee (shark's fin soup).
Dong-chom-bak-op (baked pigeon).
Lichee-gi (chicken and fresh lichee).
Chow-foo-yeung-hi (hard-shell crabs).
Yin-wah-chin-op (baked duck).
Hoo-chan-gon (deep-sea fish).
Chicken chop suey (with fine tea and rice).
Boo-guan-yew (wine made of rice).
Oolong tea. Cigars.

"Eat plenty much," says Jeu Tom, mine host.

Chow-foo-yeung-hi,
On lichee-gi,
Hoo-chan-gou (made of fishes),
On boo-guan-yew
(Delicious brew!)
And other dainty dishes,
They sat at feast
Two hours at least,
With hot ngee-chee beginning,
And loth to stop—
Yin-wah-chin-op,
Et cetera, were so winning.

Six "Melican" men were banqueted in Hop Alley on enight last week at a dinner given by Jeu Tom in honor of four of his countrymen who were on the eve of departure for China.

The Americans are Charles F. Gallenkamp, surveyor of customs; J. E. Lysaght, inspector of customs; M. Maloney, assistant warehouse clerk in the customs service; Alonzo F. Shriner, cashier in the customs department; F. L. Harstead, chief clerk in the Union Pacific offices, and O. H. Happel, city ticket agent for the Union Pacific.

The Chinamen who are to visit their native land are all Jeus—Jeu Ho, Jeu Lin, Jeu San and Jeu Fong.

The banquet was served in Si Fong's restaurant at 23 South Eighth street. The Americans and the Chinese sat on tall stools around a circular table. The food was served in courses. Knives and forks were supplied to the Americans, who are not adepts in chopsticking.

"That is very fine boo-guan-yew," said

"Me likee boo-guan-yew Melican."

one of the Americans to his host, Jeu Tom. "I think I'll take another glass, Mr. Tom. I don't remember ever sampling any boo-guan-yew as fine as this."

Jeu Ho praises his host's dong-chom-bak-up.

KINLOCH TEL. CO. THE DEFENDANT

BERRYMAN TO SUE BECAUSE 'PHONE SERVICE WAS STOPPED.

HAD SLOT MACHINE ATTACHED

Telephone Company Objected, as It Wants Exclusive Right to Have Such Devices on Its Instruments.

Will E. Berryman, proprietor of the Union Station drug store, says he intends to institute suit against the Kinloch Telephone Co. because of the discontinuance of service on his telephone.

Mr. Berryman placed in use in connection with his telephone a device for collecting nickels from users. The company objects to the use of such devices, and discontinued his service. Mr. Berryman says that his rent has been paid in advance.

H. L. Reber, secretary of the Kinloch company, says that it intends to reserve the right to attach coin collecting devices to its instruments.

The Coin Controller Co. is the maker of the device which was placed on Mr. Berryman's telephone. The mechanism consists of a lock holding the receiver in place, which is released by the dropping of a nickel into the box.

MURPHY MURDER A DEEP MYSTERY

the house, through the yard and down the road in the direction of the house of Scott Palmer. It was an intensely dark night and she lost her way stumbling along the rough roads, often falling. She got on the wrong road at a turn and had to come back. When she reached Palmer's house it was some time before she could tell her story.

It is Mrs. Murphy's belief that her husband was murdered by some one intent on robbery who knew of the manner in which he kept his money.

To the Post-Dispatch she said:

"I have repeatedly had dreams of late that we were being robbed. The night before my husband was killed I had a horrible dream. In it Sylvester was being murdered, and I awoke screaming. When I told my dream to my husband he laughed, but he promised me then that he would move to town as soon as his crop was marketed."

SCOUTS ROBBER THEORY.

One of the first persons to appear on the scene of the murder was L. V. Hill, attorney for Montgomery County, who carefully examined the ground.

Mr. Hill scouts the robbery theory. He reasons that a person so desperate as to commit such an atrocious murder would not stop there, but that after the man was killed and Mrs. Murphy had run screaming from her house he would have entered and broken into the safe. The murderer and robber, after firing the shot, would probably have retreated into the shrubbery and weeds, with which the house is surrounded, and hidden himself until the way was safe. The man dead and the woman fled for help, there would have been no bar to his entrance. That the person who committed the crime was of iron nerve, Mr. Hill points out, is shown by the remarkable shot he fired. The muzzle of the shotgun, for such the weapon must have been to have held the slug that was fired into Murphy's body, could not have been less than five feet from the window.

To strike its mark it passed between the window sash and the corner of the sewing machine. There was only one space through which this could successfully be done, and this was less than an inch wide. After going through the wire screen the slug shattered the window glass and then the rail of the couch. The rail was of black walnut, two inches or more in diameter, and a jagged hole was made in it and a piece of wood, four inches long, stripped off. Then only did the slug penetrate Murphy's body.

THINKS HE HAS A CLEW.

In excluding the murder for robbery theory, Mr. Hill hints at one which, for reasons of justice, he cannot at present reveal.

To the Post-Dispatch he said Tuesday: "I had an interview with a banker of Litchfield today, and from him I gained information which I believe may lead to the detection of the murderer. It is a story that I think extremely reasonable, and, at the same time, one of the most remarkable in my experience in dealing with crime. I cannot say what my theory is, for if it is true any exposure of it would thwart the ends of justice."

W. A. Gray, who is conducting the inquest on the body of Murphy, summoned more than a dozen witnesses. The jury took up the case Tuesday afternoon and adjourned at 4:30 o'clock without having finished its examination, to resume its investigation today.

Coroner Gray had the signed statement of Mrs. Murphy taken at her home, as her condition would not permit her being at the inquest. This statement he excluded from publicity on the ground that it contained some information by the publication of which the interests of justice might be defeated. He was very reticent to tell what the testimony of several of the witnesses had been, but did say that he expected startling developments to grow out of the case.

There is a theory, held by many, that possibly jealousy might have been the cause of Murphy's murder; that there was either a man or a woman in the case. But the character of both Mr. and Mrs. Murphy makes this theory of little weight.

THE MURPHYS' HOME LIFE.

Sylvester Murphy was 56 years old. He was apparently devoted to his wife, who is a few years his junior. He was not known, so far as can be learned, to have paid attention to any woman other than his wife in the 30 years of his married life. He was a somewhat austere man, eminently just in his business and personal dealings, and compelled the entire respect of all who knew him. His chief interest in life was business, and to this he devoted all his attention.

Mrs. Murphy is a woman past middle age, of large figure, and of the type of farm housewife. All who know her testify to her affection for and loyalty to her husband. She is prostrated in bed at her home as the result of the tragedy, and between sobs told the story of the murder as she knew it, and of her flight down the dark road to warn her neighbors. She testified to the tender regard in which her husband held her. She has been in ill health for several weeks, and she told how her husband, returning from the fields on the evening on which he was shot, had found her lying on the couch. He had put his hand on her forehead and said: "I am sorry you are no better, sweetheart." She knew that he was tired, and had arisen and cooked his supper and then urged him to lie down and rest while he read the papers and she cleared away and washed the supper dishes. She had hardly got him comfortably settled and returned to the kitchen when she heard the crash of the gun. The person who fired the shot, she is convinced, was then watching their movements from cover of the bushes that surround the house.

County Attorney Hill and the other officers of Montgomery County are devoting all their energies to unraveling the mystery that surrounds the murder of Murphy, and hint at some startling revelations.

WIFE GETS WRIT AGAINST HUSBAND

ENJOINS HIM FROM TAKING HER MONEY FROM SAFE.

HASTENS TO SERVE THE ORDER

Cash Is Deposited Where Man Works and Woman Heard He Would Take It This Noon.

Mrs. Maria Packhof secured from Judge Zachritz Wednesday morning, a temporary restraining order to keep her husband, Lorenz Packhof, from removing the sum of $1000, which she says, belongs to her, from a safe in the office of the Empire Brewing Company.

After the issuance of the injunction, Mrs. Packhof's attorney, G. M. Fickeissen, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, hastened to the brewery to serve the order, which applies to Packhof and to Louis Haase, an employe of the brewing company.

The attorney feared that Packhof might have learned in some way of his wife's intention and might take out the money before the order could reach him, although his wife believed that he would not attempt to take it until noon.

The Packhofs live at Manchester avenue and Clayton road, and the husband works for the brewery, which is situated at Sarah street and the Wabash tracks.

Mrs. Packhof says that her husband persuaded her to deposit her money, $1000, in his name with the Lincoln Trust Co. Later, she says, they had disagreements and he threatened to leave her.

Tuesday, she says, she found that he had drawn her money from the trust company and had placed it in the brewery safe. She was told that it was his intention to take it from the safe at noon Wednesday. Then she sought Lawyer Fickeissen, and the application for the restraining order was prepared.

RULES FOR LADY MANAGERS.

Will Be Submitted at Meeting of the Body Sept. 29.

A call for a meeting of the board of lady managers of the World's Fair, to be held Sept. 29, has been sent out by Secretary Joseph Flory. Rules to govern the deliberations of the board are being prepared by Directors C. W. Knapp, Nathan Frank and A. L. Shapleigh.

When completed they will be submitted to the executive committee to be sent to the national commission in time for adoption before the meeting of the lady managers.

The Exposition management has been notified by the government authorities that the World's Fair corporation is responsible for the water facilities of the Exposition. The life-saving display will be made on the artificial lake and water reservoir to the west of Skinker road.

CORONER'S JURY'S VERDICT, "HOMICIDE"

POLICEMAN O'HEARN ORDERED TO BE TAKEN BEFORE THE CHIEF.

TESTIMONY ABOUT THE FIGHT

Some Say the Policeman's Revolver Was Discharged After the Scuffle—He Says Not.

The inquest on the body of Lawrence J. Manning, who was shot and killed by Policeman O'Hearn early Tuesday morning, was held Wednesday.

The verdict was homicide.

Deputy Coroner Fitzsimmons, who presided, ordered that O'Hearn be taken before Chief of Police Kiely and the result of the inquest reported to that official.

O'Hearn, who was suspended from the force after the shooting, was reinstated late Tuesday and appeared in the coroner's office wearing his star.

O'Hearn's testimony was widely at variance with that of the other witnesses. He said that he was walking on O'Fallon street, near Broadway, about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he heard that there was trouble in O'Donnell's saloon at 1244 North Third street.

Upon his entering the saloon, the officer said, Manning ran up behind him and took his revolver from his pocket. He grappled with Manning, trying to recover his weapon, and it was discharged. A second time during the scuffle, the policeman said, the revolver went off. Manning then ran out of the saloon, and O'Hearn testified that he spent half an hour looking for him, and that when he returned to the saloon he was arrested by Sergt. Trojanowski and taken to the station.

his vest. The second shot resulted fatally.

The firing, they said, took place after the scuffle.

"Well, I guess I'm done for," Manning remarked to Gallagher, the latter testified.

Gallagher then went outside with Manning, and Policeman Mantowski called an ambulance.

FUNERAL OF JUDGE TREAT

Body Now on Its Way From Rochester and Burial Will Take Place Thursday Afternoon.

A PRIEST FOR FIFTY YEARS.

Rev. Francis Braun Celebrated His Golden Jubilee Yesterday.

Rev. Francis Braun, S. J. and his parishioners at St. Joseph's Church, Eleventh and Biddle streets, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his priesthood on Tuesday.

The ceremonies of the golden jubilee lasted through the day, and commenced with mass, celebrated by Father Braun, with Fathers Bushart, Miles, Zealand and Rotenberger participating. A reception to the aged priest was then held in the school hall, and handsome gifts, chiefly in the form of vestments and altar ornaments were presented to him.

Father Braun is 75 years old, and was ordained Sept. 1, 1852, in the Cathedral of Cologne. He joined the Jesuit order two years later.

THIS "OLD MAID" THE EIGHTH DESERTER FROM AN ANTI-MATRIMONY CLUB

MISS CARRIE CONNER. ARTHUR HAID.

Miss Carrie Conner, One of the Last Four Spinsters of the Club, Is to Be Married.

When the girls form an "Old Maids' " Club or young men a Bachelors' League, just watch for Cupid to get busy.

Young Dan has had a very busy time the past 18 months in adjoining blocks on Stoddard and Thomas streets, where have resided the members of the Mozart and Dickens Club.

His eighth effort will be crowned with success Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, when Miss Carrie Conner of 3061 Cass avenue and Arthur Haid of 1414 Aubert avenue will be married at Miss Conner's home.

Seven members of the Mozart and Dickens Club have marked time to the wedding march since they met a year and a half ago and resolved, oh, so solemnly, that they would devote less time to their male admirers and more time to literature and music, and called on the shades of Mozart and Dickens to prosper their new-found devotion.

"Boycott the men," was the club's motto. In the bylaws were rules indicating that no member should be accompanied by a male escort to or from the place of a meeting, that no man's name, save those of great authors or musicians, should be mentioned at the meetings, and that the name of the organization and the place of meeting should not be divulged to any of their male acquaintances.

The last two rules did not keep both the name of the club and its meeting place from becoming known. The boys placed tick-tacks on the windows of the parlor where they met and dubbed the members "The Old Maids' Club."

"Very well," said the "Elevated Eleven." "We will be old maids, then."

"Oh, will you?" said D. Cupid, sotto voce. And he began getting busy.

When the club was organized its members were Misses Clara Haid, Mamie Hunt, Dollie Dawkins, Ora Boswell, Katharyn Morrow, Emma Haid, Nellie Southard, Carrie Conner, Myrtle Davis, Gertrude Bennett and Ida Feigel.

After Tuesday night's ceremony at the Conner home, only the three last named will retain the names under which they joined the Mozart and Dickens Club. All the others answer to names commencing with "Mrs."

Of course, the Mozart and Dickens Club will be at the wedding at the Conner home. Two of the young women, now wives, are sisters of the groom. Another, formerly Miss Boswell, is a half sister of the bride.

Mr. Haid and his bride will be married by Rev. Frank Henderson. They will start next Sunday on a wedding tour.

FRAUENTHAL'S MAIDEN SPEECH

Former Chief of Union Station Information Bureau Fires First Bomb in His Campaign.

Barney Frauenthal made his maiden speech as a campaign orator Tuesday night in the First Ward McKinley League Republican Club headquarters at 6200 Prescott avenue.

With considerable eloquence, the former chief of the interrogation window at the Union Station fired his first bomb as a candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner of Missouri.

Mr. Frauenthal was introduced by Oscar Woestendiek, president of the club. He was greeted with applause and his remarks were received with favor. He announced that his platform would be the "riddance of the state house ring, the proper use of the school funds and the wiping out of the lobby."

Among others who spoke were Congressman Charles F. Joy, Charles E. Carroll, Theodore D. Kalbfell, James M. Rollins and Wilbur F. Parker. The two last named men seek the Republican nomination for the state senate.

HIBERNIANS' GAMES SUNDAY.

St. Patrick's Parish Will Have Many Events at Rinkles' Park.

Final arrangements were made Tuesday night by St. Patrick's parishioners for their picnic and games to be held at Rinkel's grove, Easton and Hamilton avenues, next Sunday.

Terence Martin presided at the meeting and reports were received from the following in charge: John McInerney, geenral manager; Patrick Lacey, musical director; Daniel McNellis, arrangements; J. J. O'Connor, athletics; Peter O'Fallon, entertainment; Bart Nolan, reception; Mrs. Hoeffel, supper, and Misses Mitchell, Coughlin and Mochler, refreshments.

Patrick Noonan, captain of the A. O. H. band, has had men practicing every evening. St. Patrick's fife and drum corps will play, and John Gleeson will compete in the fat men's race. There will be other athletic events and dancing. East St. Louis Hibernians and Nationalists will attend in a body.

Japanese Student Here to See Exposition Grounds and Help Its Interests in His Country.

Shiró K. Yendo of the American Trading Co. of New York, a Japanese student, who is in America for the purpose of perfecting his mercantile education, and who has been with the department of Japanese agriculture and commerce for five years in New York, arrived in St. Louis Wednesday morning on his way to Yokohama and Kobe, Japan.

He had with him letters from the Japanese consul, Takase, to Mr. Barrett of the World's Fair asking that Mr. Yendo be shown the World's Fair grounds and given all particulars concerning the Exposition in order that he may further its interests in Japan. While in New York Mr. Yendo became acquainted with Totaro Kabayshi, one of the Japanese who live in St. Louis. He will depart Thursday morning.

TURF NOTES.

Enoch Wishard was required to produce the certificate of breeding of the imported horse Harrow, which ran in the second race at Sheepshead yesterday.

Reports from Chicago are to the effect that residents of that city were richer by half a million dollars when Savable won the Futurity.

It is reported that the poor showing made in the Futurity by colts who could beat Dazzling in their work has been the cause of much perplexity to Mr. James R. Keene.

August Belmont presented McCue with a check for $1000 yesterday in recognition of his grand effort on Lord of the Vale in the Futurity. Such liberality warrants the conclusion that a very large sum would have been presented to him if the colt had won.

W. K. Vanderbilt's Quos Ego, ridden by Thompson, an American light weight, who formerly was an apprentice in the employ of T. J. Healey, won the Prix Pommeraye yesterday at St. Cloud, and the same owner's Biltmore was third in the race for the Prix des Allees.

Messrs. A. H. & D. H. Morris are to retire from racing, and all their horses will be sold in October. Compute was the best colt owned by the firm this year, but his breakdown during the Morris Park meeting deprived them of a high-class racehorse. Yankee, last year's Futurity winner, was bred by the Morris brothers "on shares" with Milton Young. The famous scarlet jacket of the Messrs. Morris has been in the classics of the American turf for 50 years or more, the grandfather of the present bearers of the name having been one of the pillars of the turf.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

MADDEN ACCEPTS DRAKE'S CHALLENGE

Will Race Aceful Against the Futurity Winner.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—John A. Drake's challenge to those horse owners who do not think that Savable's victory in the Futurity was a meritorious one has been practically accepted by John E. Madden, who has expressed his willingness to send Aceful, owned jointly by himself and the firm of Whitney & Duryea, against the Futurity winner.

Mr. Madden will also advise his associates to enter the sweepstakes with Irish Lad. One or two other horses probably will start and a good purse will be hung up by the jockey club.

BECKHAM WILL NOT STOP FIGHT

Kentucky's Governor Will Merely Announce That Bout Is in Violation of Law.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 3.—Gov. Beckham, it is stated, will not interfere with the McGovern-Corbett prize fight to take place at Louisville. While the Governor declines to make a statement regarding his intentions, it is believed by leading lawyers that he will do nothing further than to notify the city officials that the fight is to take place and that it is in violation of the statutes.

The governor, say these lawyers, is powerless to do anything further. He can not call out the militia unless the local authorities make declaration that they are unable to cope with the situation without the aid of soldiers.

The law makes it the duty of the judiciary, executive and police departments in cities where prize fights are to be held, to arrest the participants. Forfeiture of office is the penalty for non-compliance with the statutes in this case. The governor can not be held responsible.

EASTERN OWNERS UNFAIR, SAYS GATES

Friend of John A. Drake Declares Westerners Are Not Welcome in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Much has been said about the obstacles that are now thrown in the path of the Americans who attempt to race their thoroughbreds in England. From what has come under my personal observation I am certain that Americans racing in England receive more fair treatment than do Western horse owners in New York."

That assertion was made yesterday by John W. Gates, who was aroused by the criticism of John A. Drake made by a prominent Eastern horse owner.

Mr. Gates discussed the Futurity, its winner, Savable, and the owner of the horse. He said that his personal friends won $462,000 on Savable. That did not include a generous wager won by his son, Charles G. Gates, nor by the employes of Harris, Gates & Co. and Counselman & Day.

"I am glad that Mr. Drake's horse won the Futurity," said Mr. Gates, "and I am proud of the fact that the winning horse, the jockey, trainer and owner are all products of the West. Savable was the best colt in the race; he was well prepared by Enoch Wishard and Lucien Lyne rode the colt with the best possible judgment.

"Fault has been found because Savable was started in the mud at Saratoga, with a stable boy up. Well, the stable bet on Savable that day in Saratoga. His performance was a disappointment, 'tis true, but it was because of mud. The colt was not kept under cover. Mr. Drake made public announcement that he expected to win the Futurity with Savable. The truth is that Western horse owners are not welcomed with any degree of enthusiasm when they come to New York."

NEW CLUBS IN TENPIN LEAGUE NECESSITATE THE BODY'S DIVISION

Association to Be Separated Into Two Classes—Clubs With an Average of 829 Will Form Section A and the Others Section B.

Expansion is the war cry in local tenpin circles.

At a meeting held last night at the Unicum alleys, in which 40 representatives of the St. Louis Tenpin League participated, it was announced that the league had become so plethoric that it would have to be divided in two sections.

In all 21 teams have announced their intention of joining the organization and several more entries are anticipated at the meeting to be held Sept. 10.

The twenty-one entries, omitting possibilities for the future, represent an increase over last season of 75 per cent. and over the 1900 year, of 350 per cent.

The rules and regulations committee, in submitting its report last night, decided that the organization was too large to be handled conveniently as one body, and that it had arranged to divide it in two sections according to the following plan:

The original league will be divided in two sections based on the showing of the teams last season. In Section A will be all those clubs which last season maintained an average of 829. Section B will be made up of all others.

This arrangement is qualified, however, by the provision that clubs which made over 800 last season, will have 30 days of the schedule in which to determine whether they can do better than their last season's record.

If the come up to the 829 mark they will be classed with the first division. New clubs will be classified in the second division unless their preliminary work shows form to entitle them to admission to Section A.

A meeting of the organization will be held Sept. 10 to pass upon other entries and to arrange a schedule for the coming season. No date for the starting of the tournament has been announced, but it is thought that by the 1st of October the league will have been launched on its schedule.

Of the nine new teams for the season, four have chosen names as follows: The Palms, the Monarchs, the Frisco's and the M. K. and T's.

Of the clubs represented last season all will be in this year's race with the possible exception of the Western Rowing Club. Owing to the fact that the Western Alleys were pronounced not regulation, it was decided that no more league games would be played there.

The Westerns threaten to drop out if not allowed to play on their home alleys. It is thought, however, that they will establish new uptown alleys in preference to leaving the organization.

The official alleys are the Grand, the Unicum, the Palace, the St. Louis Bowling Association and the Monarch.

The schedule will provide for 21 matches to be played by each club—66 games in all.

BANQUET AWAITS M'ALEER'S TEAM

Max Orthwein Promises Everything From Soup to Ambulance If Browns Win the Flag.

If the Browns win the pennant this season, there will be a large, broad occasion the night when the club breaks training. Max Orthwein, who is summering at Ottawa Beach, and who, with his brother Ralph, is interested in the St. Louis American League team, will be the instrument of the opulent time referred to.

Mr. Orthwein is a fan. He is in the sport for the sport's sake. He occasionally follows the team around part way on its trips to see what it can do. For awhile Mr. Orthwein had the blues—that was after the losing experiences of the club at Philadelphia and Boston. Now, however, the recent victories of the club, have started the enthusiasm circulating again.

This became apparent yesterday morning, when a communication was received at Sportsman's Park, by Secretary Hedges from Mr. Orthwein, stating that a banquet of courses till you couldn't eat another thing, till you couldn't see, would be tendered the team if it came out on top of the heap.

CARMODY GOES TO BOOM TURF PLANS

He Departs for New York Tomorrow Night to Uphold St. Louis' End.

Captain P. J. Carmody, general manager of the recent Kinloch Jockey Club's successful meeting, departs for the East tomorrow night to try to put through the St. Louis end of the deal to establish a new turf body, of which John W. Gates, John A. Drake and Senator Tim Sullivan of New York are the interested parties.

Mr. Carmody states that the announcements given out to the Post-Dispatch yesterday by parties connected with the St. Louis end of the affair, were premature, and that so far, correspondence on the subject is as far as the situation has progressed. Mr. Carmody has been in communication with Tim Sullivan on the matter, and his trip to New York is to decide the feasibility of establishing the independent turf body.

A conference will be arranged after Mr. Carmondy's arrival in New York.

Concerning the matter Capt. Carmody said, Wednesday morning:

"We are satisfied that any reputable parties who want to start a race track are entitled to do so in the state of Missouri, yet under the circumstances we fear the autocrat of the situation, the Western Jockey club, will not treat us right if we go to work and establish a new and expensive plant, and make our venture a failure.

"As members of an independent organization with a circuit of its own we could snap our fingers at the Chicago or any other body. We have already about $70,000 in sight, promised by merchants of this city, as subscription to start a new racing plant here, and I am confident we will be established here in one way or another, whether as members of the proposed independent organization or otherwise."

Hyde Park Vs. Sheriff's.

The Hyde Park and Sheriff's baseball clubs will play a game at O'Fallon Park next Saturday. Both claim to be speedy organizations, and a good game is promised. It is reported that the sheriff will have an auction sale of his club's effects after the game, but Mr. Dieckman's men claim this is only a rumor circulated by their opponents.

ATTELL RETURNS TO FINISH TRAINING

Boy Who Will Fight Abel Turned Down Johnny Corbett as a Manager.

Johnny Corbett, late manager of "Young Corbett," is seeking another champion.

The man he is after is Abe Attell, whom he now says can beat Young Corbett. Attell returned to St. Louis this morning to finish his training for the match with Kid Abel, to be held here Sept. 11 at the West End Club.

Attell states that while in Chicago Johnny Corbett, who, until a few days ago, was the business man for the champion "featherweight" of the world, approached him and remarked that he was looking for a real champion to grace his staff, and thought Abe Attell would about fit.

Mr. Corbett was given the cold and glassy stare and told that he (Attell) was under the management of one Harry Cohen and would stay there until circumstances showed Cohen incompetent.

President Charles Haughton asked Attell at the time, if he was sure it was Cohen who was managing him, and not a man named Wolfson, but Abe was quite certain.

Nobody asked Attell in what relation he stood to Jack McKenna, his former business partner—it might have been embarrassing to answer until after the Attell-Regan fight, which is still in the air.

At all events, Johnny Corbett will have to seek another champion than Attell. Abe says Corbett told the Chicago papers that Attell was the only man in the country he feared could beat Young Corbett and that was the reason for calling off the Denver matches.

Johnny Corbett stated while in St. Louis that he thought McGovern would whip Corbett in the coming fight.

Accompanying Attel was Kid Farmer, another phenomenon, who has fought 29 fights and won 18 straight knock-outs. Farmer will meet St. Louis Tommy Sullivan in a preliminary the night of the Attell-Abel match. The main event is scheduled to go 20 rounds and the preliminary 8. Harry Sharpe will referee.

CROAK'S CHATS WITH THE GOOD DRESSER

Who's Your Tailor?

A poet is born, not made. So is the artist, and likewise the Art Tailor. Because Art Tailoring is a matter of taste, it is making up-to-date clothes to become their wearer. If a man is rigged up in the latest cut clothes and looks like a freak, that man is poorly dressed. Style must be mixed with discretion and taste. The color of your suit may depend on the color of your hair, or your height, or your breadth. You are a busy man and haven't time to carefully study out this harmony of dress. But this is my business, my specialty; perhaps I ought to call it my profession. And this is the secret of the Croak Dresser, the Good Dresser—while always being clothed fashionably, he's always clothed tastefully.

The "economies of trust management" are likely to result in economies of various kinds on the part of consumers.

Secretary Shaw's requirement that treasury clerks shall pay their debts makes them wonder if the star-spangled banner yet waves.

MR. ROOSEVELT BELIEVES.

In his Fitchburg speech President Roosevelt makes it plain that strong, intelligent, but conservative action, is needed with reference to trust monopolies. But he concludes his remarks with these words of feeble promise:

"I believe something can be done by national legislation. When I state that I ask you to note my words. I say I believe. It is not in my power to say I know."

This is the lame and impotent conclusion of a sensible, straightforward profession of good intentions.

Is it possible that after years of discussion the President of the United States halts irresolute in a question of policy which has been maturing for a decade? Mr. Roosevelt is surrounded with the pick of legal talent, but confesses he doesn't know that anything can be done by national legislation. He only believes. This argues little hope.

A leader cannot inspire confidence if he has only guesses to offer. If he cannot point the way and prove his faith by walking in it himself, how can he expect the people to follow him?

Momentous questions like this of monopoly will be settled by men who have faith in themselves. Guessers and even hopers will always be deadheads in such enterprises.

With Congress standing faithfully by them, as it did in the recent session, the trusts have little to fear from Roosevelt. No President can legislate.

THE COUNTRY'S GROWTH.

The Bureau of Statistics has issued a monograph entitled, "A moving picture of conditions in the United States."

It traces the growth of the country since 1800 by decades. In that year the area was 827,844 square miles. Now it is 3,(25,000 square miles exclusive of Alaska and the "colonies." We were worth $7,000,000,000 in 1850. In 1890 we boast of $94,000,000,000. In 1850, if wealth had been equally distributed, each man, woman and child would have $307, or, say $1500 to each family. In 1900 we have $1235 each, or say $6100 to each family.

But it is in the last decade that the growth is most conspicuous. In 1890 the bank clearings amounted to $58,845,279,565. In 1900 they are $114,190,226,021. In 1890 there were 14),866,931 tons of coal produced. In 1900 261,677,961 tons. In 1900 steel (tons) 4,277,171; in 1901 13,473,595; wages and salaries paid manufacturing, in 1890, $2,183,216,529; in 1900 $2,734,430,848. Value of manufactured products 1890 $5,369,579,191; in 1900 $13,039,279,506. Freight carried one mile (tons) 1890 79,192,985,125; in 1900 141,162,109,413.

These figures afford the reader some idea of the great change which has taken place. It is another country bigger two-fold than a decade ago. Whether the improvement is quantitative only, time will tell. But we all believe the quality is getting better every day.

There is also to be some grandjurying over in Alton.

WORLD'S FAIR PROSPERITY.

St. Louis is enjoying an increasing amount of World's Fair prosperity. As recorded in Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, every hotel in the city is crowded to the roof with merchants from North, South, East and West. At least 5000 buyers from the West and Southwest are here, and to serve them 1000 traveling salesmen have been called in. The increase in the wholesale trade over last season is estimated at 25 per cent.

The big wholesale dry goods houses did a business in August of at least a million dollars more than for the same month last year. And the season is just at its height.

In hats, shoes, clothing and millinery goods there has been as great an increase, and the year will almost certainly be a record-breaker in every department of trade and business.

Much of this prosperity may be attributed to the abundant crops. But much of it is also due to the fact that the World's Fair has made St. Louis the center of attraction. The Post-Dispatch, more than any other single factor, was instrumental in making the campaign for the World's Fair a success. That success meant the turning of the stream of trade this way from every point of the compass. It has already brought millions of dollars to St. Louis that would otherwise have gone elsewhere. And the good effect has only begun to be felt. Whatever may be the final balance struck as regards the Louisiana Purchase Exposition itself, St. Louis will have reaped a harvest whose grand total is beyond estimation.

If President Roosevelt is not the favorite son of New York, whose boy is he?

THE ADMIRAL AND THE DUCHESS.

The late Admiral Sampson held that gunners and such should not be promoted to be naval officers, because, not being gentlemen, they would not be fitted, when the time came, to represent their country fittingly in foreign ports when there was anything doing in a social way.

Admiral Higginson stretches the point even further. Being an officer in the navy, and consequently a gentleman, he feels that nothing should be allowed to interfere with the first duty of a gentleman, which is to pay his respects to the ladies. Is there a wealthy matron or a grand dame of consequence who is bored by her surroundings and pines for diversion? It is the admiral's duty to entertain her, particularly if she is a duchess, and an American duchess at that, even though the whole squadron of vessels in command is compelled to desist from its labors and be laid up at the public expense. Even though every officer should rise and protest against his course, the admiral is too much a gentleman to steam away cruelly and leave the fair dowager to ennui.

Admiral Dewey of Manila on that eventful May morning, when he sailed into the harbor, sent his wife out in a yawl to request the favor of a serenade before breakfast, the admiral, being too much of a gentleman to refuse the fair supplicant, would have postponed his attack on the Spanish fleet, and the Philippines might today still be in the hands of the Spaniards, where some Americans fervently wish they had remained.

It is a long cry from Admiral Higginson at Newport to Gen. Hell-roaring Jake Smith in Samar.

Taxpayers ought not to be delayed in paying their sprinkling tax. The business rule of "first come first served" should be observed in all City Hall offices. The hog who comes too late and pushes himself forward ought not to be given preference over those who have stood waiting patiently before his appearance.

THE PENALTY OF BOSS DOMINATION.

The Republicans of St. Louis are paying the penalty of their past errors.

For years the local Republican party has been dominated by vicious bosses who controlled the party machine for selfish and corrupt purposes. Through these bosses the Ziegenhein gang ruled the party and plundered the city.

The people of St. Louis threw the gang out of power in the City Hall, but it continued to dominate the Republican machine. Now, in the opening of a campaign which offers opportunity for a strong and progressive struggle for a foothold in the state government, the reputable Republicans are compelled to turn their energies to a fight with the machine bosses for the control of their own party organization. The party is rent by dissensions. It is threatened with a factional split.

This condition is the consequence of subservience to the rule of spoils bosses. The voters let the bosses intrench themselves in power, and must now wreck the party's hopes of success in the approaching campaign to get rid of them.

The Democrats of the state may well take this lesson to heart. The condition of the Democratic party in the state in large measure parallels that of the Republican party in St. Louis. The organization is boss-ridden and lobby-ridden. Its course for several years has been marked by scandals. The machine bosses rule the party for their own selfish purposes. None but machine favorites or men in harmony with the machine bosses can hope for success in the party organization. The candidates for office are selected by the machine and are subject to the dictation of the machine bosses.

The Democrats of the state, if they do not rebuke the machine and assert their independence, will be confronted by the same conditions which now confront the St. Louis Republicans.

A writer in Leslie's Monthly says: "So rare is suicide among American negroes that it is doubtful if a well-authenticated case can be shown." Such cases are rare, yet the records of the coroner's office in St. Louis will disclose 10 or 12 in the last six or seven years.

POINTING THE TRACY MORAL

In his story of Outlaw Harry Tracy, which began in the Sunday Post-Dispatch of Aug. 24 and was completed in the issue of Sunday, Aug. 31, ex-Outlaw Frank James proved that he is not a dime novelist.

In his introduction Mr. James said:

> This is an attempt to tell the story of the life of a man who committed moral and physical suicide.
>
> * * * * * *
> There was nothing heroic in Tracy's career, nothing that should cause any boy to wish to imitate him in the least.
> If his deeds are worth retelling at all, it is only for the warning which such a terrible life and its inevitable end may bear for the boys and young men who stand at the parting of the ways and waver between the two routes—the one that leads to honor and self-satisfaction, and the other that leads to shame and self-destruction.

And in the final chapter this author pictured Tracy stumbling along, haunted by the thought of his treachery to Merrill, pursued by frightful dreams, afraid of every sound, unable to rest, a half maniac and wholly a failure.

This, from the standpoint of the dime novelist, was "bad business." In the dime novel the "hero" has a hard time, but always gets the best of it. Pursuers are outwitted and distanced. Nemesis is fooled. Physical courage atones for all past mistakes, and despair and retribution are not features of the plot.

The story of Tracy is the true story of every outlaw who makes no attempt to reform. As Mr. James said, the end of such a man is inevitable. It can be foreseen from the beginning of his career.

"Even if there were no saving in the cost of fuel we would not think of going back to coal," says the superintendent of the St. Louis Steel Barge Co., after converting the tug McDougall into an oil burner. Oil on river boats appears to be by far the most desirable fuel. The demand for it must greatly increase.

According to "old Moore," the British seer, aerial navigation will have become a substantial reality before 1904. BACK IN TOWN.

Break, break, break,
On thy cold gray stones, O sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me!

Oh, well for the office boy,
As he dawdles around all day!
Oh, well for the thick-set millionaire,
As he gives his coal a weigh!

But the heavy days go by,
And the summer fades from view;
And oh, for the touch of a silver plunk
And the smell of an oyster stew!

Break, break, break,
On thy cold gray stones, O sea!
But the tender embrace of a roll that is gone
Will never come back to me!

Our Female Showmen.

Mrs. "Con" Vanderbilt was determined to be at the top of the heap at Newport, and she would have spent $100,000, if necessary, as readily as she did $40,000 to prove to her rivals, both sprightly matrons and gouty dowagers, that she was right there with the goods socially.

When Mrs. "Con" took a troupe of one hundred members from N! York to Newport, to furnish a little fun and amusement for her guests in her own specially constructed theater, she set a warm pace for the set which has been trying to throw the harpoon into her in a social way. In fact, she opened a wide vista of entertainment, if not of usefulness, for the members of Mrs. Astor's One Hundred—count 'em.

Before long, instead of living in idleness and luxury, with an occasional "flyer" in the divorce market, our rich women may go into the business of furnishing entertainment for all comers, instead of for a "small but select" audience, and may vie with one another to see which can boast of the greatest show on earth.

Instead of having only a monkey now and then, after the manner of Mr. Harry Lehr, there is no reason why they cannot get together the most dazzling and stupendous aggregation of wild animals ever seen in captivity, supplemented by all manner of human talent, performing in three rings at one and the same time right before your very eyes, our gentlemanly agents will now pass among you, etc.

Backed by almost illimitable wealth, there is no reason why a female Barnum should not flourish "in our midst." We may yet live to see the flaming signs of "Coming! Coming!" and hail Mrs. "Con" Vanderbilt's or Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish's show with as wild acclaim as ever we did Barnum's, Bailey's or old John Robinson's.

ODDITIES OF INDUSTRY.

In an interesting trade report a foreign consul in eastern Roumania points out that the yield of attar of roses this year is from 20 to 25 per cent less than in 1900. He makes out a lamentable case for those who grow roses to supply this famous essence. Prices have fallen to an extraordinary degree in the foreign markets. "Reports have reached here," he says, "that some of the so-called better brands have been offered abroad at about $130 per kilo (two and one-fifth pounds), a price which would not cover the first cost of purchase on this side." The main cause for regret is that the rose fields belong to peasant proprietors, who are also distillers of the essence, and the ruin of the industry means their undoing. It is suggested that a strong influence is telling against this trade. The taste in perfumes in recent years has undergone a revolution. The rose is itself more cultivated than ever, but the commercial purposes of the queen of flowers has fallen into the background.

Few men who use walking canes are aware that the growing of walking stalks is a special industry and that certain kinds of canes are not merely collected as they may be found growing in forests. One may find at any store where the sticks are sold many canes of almost precisely the same length, weight, shape and material. Canes having the tangle of roots at the handle, for instance, are much sold in England. They are grown by a "farmer," who makes it a specialty to trim and shape young ash plants. In some instances the canes are secured by the process of grubbing and pruning furze and wild shrubbery and the men who engage in this occupation are said to make money out of wild stuff that goes to waste in other places. The furze is not cultivated, though it might be, to a profit, especially on areas that are good for little else.

St. Augustine, Fla., has an oddity in the way of industrial machinery in the shape of a water-power wheel driven by an artesian well, the only wheel of the kind in America. It supplies power to a woodworking shop. The wheel is 16 feet in diameter, the well 6½ inches and 240 feet deep. Since the well does not supply power enough, however, a second well has been driven near by to reinforce the present one. The new well is eight inches in diameter.

SOUNDLESS MUSIC.

It seems that the great world, just midway in its life in the universe, is being educated upward toward a condition where energy and struggle will be useless. Space is now no bar to conversation, says the Florida Times-Union. Carriages run to and fro without horse power or visible force; there are restaurants without waiters and pianos that play themselves. Now it is predicted that some aeons hence music without sound will cheer the lover of melody.

This demands merely a keenly trained understanding of music—the ability to receive the impression through the eye from written score instead of through the ear from the sound produced by the instrument.

TREASURE TROVE FROM THE POETS

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The poem desired by a "Post-Dispatch Reader" is by James Whitcomb Riley, and entitled "The Old Man and Jim." The words are inclosed.

Maplewood, Mo. A. I. C.

THE OLD MAN AND JIM.

The old man never had much to say—
'Ceptin' to Jim—
But the old man jes' wrapped up in him.
I never heard him speak but once
Er twice in my life, and the first time wuz
When the war broke out, and Jim he went—went—
The old man backin' him—fer three months;
And All 'at I heerd the old man say
Wuz, jest as we turned to march away—
"Well, good-by, Jim; take keer of yourse'f!"

'Pears like he wuz more satisfied
Jest lookin' at Jim,
And likin' him all to hisse'f like—see?
'Cause he wuz jest wrapped up in him.
Over and over I mind the day
The old man come and stood round in the way,
While we wuz a-drillin', a-watchin' Jim,
And down at the dee-po' a-hearin' him say:
"Well, good-by, Jim; take keer of yourse'f!"
Never was nothin' about the farm
Distinguished Jim.
Neighbors all used to wonder why
The old man 'peared wrapped up in him;
But when Cap. Briggler he writ back
'At Jim was the bravest boy he had
In the whole blamed regiment, white or black,
And his fightin' good as his farmin' bad!
'At he had led, with a bullet clean
Bored through his leg—and carried the flag
Through the bloodiest battle you ever seen.
The old man wound up a letter to him
'At Cap. read to us, 'at said: "Tell Jim
Good-by, and take keer of hisse'f!"

Jim come home jest long enough
Fer to take the whim
'At he'd like to go back in the calvery—
And the old man jest wrapped up in him!
Jim 'lowed 't "he'd had sich luck before,
Guessed he'd tackle it three years more!"
And the old man give him a colt he'd raised
And followed him over to Camp Ben Wade,
And laid around fer a week or so
A-watchin' Jim on dress parade,
Tel finally he rid away,
And all 'at he heerd was the old man say:
"Well, good-by, Jim; take keer of yourse'f!"

Tuk the papers, the old man did,
Watchin' fer Jim—
Fully believin' he'd make his mark
Some day—jest wrapped up in him!
And many a time the word 'ud come
'At stirred him up like the tap of a drum!
At Petersburg, fer instance, where
Jim rid right into their cannons there—
And tuk 'em—and pinted 'em t'other way,
And socked it home to the boys in gray
As they scooted fer timber!—and on and on—
Jim a lieutenant and one arm gone.
An' the old man's words in his mind all day:
"Well, good-by, Jim; take keer of yours'f!"

Think of a private, now—perhaps
We'll say like Jim—
'At's climb clean up to the shoulder straps—
And the old man jest wrapped up in him—
Think of him—with the war plum through,
And the glorious old red, white and blue
A-laughin' the news down over Jim,
And the old man bendin' over him—
The surgeon a-turnin' away with tears
'At adn't leaked out fer years and years,
As the hand o' that dyin' boy clung to
His father's—the old voice in his ears—
"Well, good-by, Jim; take keer of yourse'f!"
—James Whitcomb Riley.

THE KING OF LOVE MY SHEPHERD IS.

The King of Love My Shepherd is,
Whose goodness faileth never;
I nothing lack if I am his
And he is mine forever.

Where streams of living waters flow
My ransomed soul he leadeth,
And where the verdant pastures grow,
With food celestial feedeth.

Perverse and foolish, oft I strayed,
But yet in love he sought me,
And on his shoulder gently laid,
And home, rejoicing, brought me.

In death's dark vale I fear no ill
With thee, dear Lord, beside me;
Thy rod and staff my comfort still,
Thy cross before to guide me.

Thou spreadst a table in my sight;
Thy unction grace bestoweth;
And O the transport of delight
With which my cup o'erfloweth.

And so, through all the length of days,
Thy goodness faileth never;
Good Shepherd, may I sing thy praise
Within thy house forever!

A Suggestion From St. Paul, Minn.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to letter of Frank I. King, complaining of the negligence of a conductor, by which his wife nearly met accident on a St. Louis street car, how would it do to have the gates attached to the hind end of each car, at command of motorman to open and shut on entering and departing, as per St. Paul style, by which such happenings and the conductors' nonchalance are not heard of?

Please let your poet gives us his views upon the St. Paul contrivance as adapted to St. Louis, for it may be "too English," you know, for prose.

Uncut Weeds.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Reading so much in the paper about New St. Louis, I would like to ask whose duty it is to see that the weeds that are growing in the prominents parts of St. Louis are cut down. If you take a stroll out McPherson avenue, Westminster, Lindell or Olive street, from Vandeventer west, on every vacant lot you will see weeds growing from two to five feet, leaving a very narrow passageway on the pavement to walk. If this is the duty of the police officer on the beat to report the growing of these weeds, why does he not do it, and if he does report it, why are not these weeds cut down?

Have the vacant lot property owners a better right than property owners whose property is occupied? You will not find any weeds growing on property that is occupied, but where the property is not occupied, in every case you will find weeds growing.

Please give me this information and advise me who is the proper party to make a complaint to. Let's get rid of the weeds.

A Cross on the Moon.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In Sunday's Post-Dispatch, Dr. Iver of Texas discovered a cross in the heavens with the moon in center. Seemingly going into a dark room and looking out an open window it was much easier to distinguish. Suppose the doctor removes the screen from the window and it will not be visible. The cross is caused by the refraction of the light of the moon falling upon the meshes of the screen. Anyone wishing to see this cross can do so by looking through a screen at the moon.

St. Louis. MAC-REFRACTIONIST.

Man's Past and Future.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The human race appears to have had its birth on the high tablelands of central Asia, south and east of the Caspian Sea. The structure and growth of language and the remains of early art indicate an extremely infantile mental condition and successive emigration from the primitive home of the race. Families and tribes which had remained together long enough to build up a common language and strong general features of character and habit, at length separated and formed a number of families of allied races. Man at first had no institutions. He existed in the simplest and most spontaneous way, groping his way by strong instincts, which soon began to dawn into intelligence of the lowest and most material kind. Since then "science, literature and art have humanized mankind, softened the rude and calmed the boisterous mind."

And now the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904 will show what the human race is capable of accomplishing under a high state of civilization and refinement. It will show that man's present state of intelligence borders close upon the infinite. The progress made by man in subduing the earth and developing its resources is indubitable evidence of our immortality. And, according to Dr. R. V. Pierce, who says: "We are pervaded with invisible influences, which, like the needle of the compass, trembling on its pivot, point us to immortality as our ultimate goal, where in the sunny clime of love, even in a spiritual realm of joy and happiness, we may eternally reign with him who is all in all."

An Interesting Collection.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have heard a great deal about the boys and girls who are getting a collection of stickers, and as I am too small to run around and gather them I decided to get a collection of the P.-D. Weather Bird.

I have been saving them for some time and have ever so many now and am going to paste them in a little book. I suggest that all the little boys do the same, for I think it is ever so much more sensible than saving stickers. I have named him Peddie (P.-D.) for the Post-Dispatch.

For the Garbage Inspector.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have written to the garbage inspector and the health department and to your paper, and the same appeared in your paper. I also have complained to the police, but the garbage box that is left 30 feet from the door of where we eat, has not been emptied for over a week and there are 18 families that use this box, and the stench from it at times is so foul and strong that we are compelled to shut the doors and windows while we eat. It has been at times over three weeks that this box has not been emptied. When I asked the driver the cause, he said that he would not and did not have to empty boxes that had cans, baskets and paper in.

I have asked all the parties using this box to be careful and not throw any of the above in the box, but in the ashpit, but there are two or three parties that persist in throwing all sorts of refuse in the box.

Now, if the garbage is not collected, is there not some way that these persons can be compelled to keep those things out or compel those supposed to collect it to do their part? It is positively a menace, and I will be obliged if some of the readers of this paper will inform me how and by what means the parties can be dealt with, so as to relieve the rest and myself from this menace. I have closed the box every time it has has been emptied, and shall continue to do so.

If the inspector sees this and will come and sit on my back porch while the box is being emptied, he can satisfy himself that it is not bad, but worse.

MEAT FOR CHILDREN.

One of the most unfortunate evil consequences of an early and liberal meat diet, says Dr. Winters, is the loss of relish it creates for the physiological foods of childhood—milk, cereals and vegetables, says the Medical Journal.

"A child that is allowed a generous meat diet," he adds, "is certain to refuse cereals and vegetables. Meat, by its stimulating effect, produces a habit as surely as does alcohol, tea or coffee, and a distaste for less satisfying foods. The foods which the meat-eating child eschews contain in large proportions certain mineral constituents which are essential to bodily nutrition and health, and without which the processes of fresh growth and development are stunted. There is more so-called nervousness, anemia, rheumatism, valvular disease of the heart and chorea at the present time in children from an excess of meat and its preparations in the diet than from all other causes combined," he declares.

OPIUM EATING IN HAWAII.

Hawaii is said to be the paradise for the opium eater. Nowhere else is [illegible] so unrestricted or its use so widespread as in this territory since its annexation. Under the provisional government opium was in the sole control of the Board of Health. After annexation these laws were declared obsolete, and, according to the Boston Transcript, there is no restriction now as to the use of the drug or its sale. Nearly as much of the drug is taken to the islands as to the entire United States. An effort is to be made to enact some law against its use which will stand in the courts.—Ex.-Med.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Written for the Post-Dispatch

BY JAMES J. CORBETT

"BEND UNTIL YOUR FINGERS TOUCH THE FLOOR."

THIS MOVEMENT WILL REDUCE LARGE HIPS.

"TOUCH YOUR TOES IF YOU CAN."

Second Lesson: Mr. Corbett Today Gives Special Exercises That Will Help Dyspeptics—No Apparatus Required—Bending and Stretching the Body.

I SAID yesterday I would give some special exercises in the lesson for indigestion.

This, as doctors will tell you, is the cause of more poor health than any other complaint.

I have in mind the nervous, worried woman, the woman of 30, who has begun to find out by a general breaking down that she has worn out her youthful vitality by not regarding the laws of health.

But the lesson I am about to give applies to any person, man or woman, as a general health-builder.

These exercises require no apparatus, and should be taken the first thing on awakening in the morning.

When you have given the body a good stretch throw the covering off and begin by lifting your legs, first one and then the other, until you are limbered enough to lift both together.

Raise them straight without bending the knees.

First you will find this rather hard to do, and perhaps will have to be content at first to just stick the legs up straight.

That alone will strengthen the back, and when you have done that ten times every morning for a week or so you will have strength enough to complete the movement.

This is done by carrying the legs over the head so far that the whole body is resting on the muscles of the shoulders.

Keep your hands by your sides, resting palm down on the bed, and they will act as an anchor to keep you from turning a back somersault, which might be disastrous to the head and neck.

This exercise taken properly is great for the back, for you use every muscle in it to lift and hold the body, but it is particularly good for the bowels, liver and kidneys, because it kneads and squeezes them.

Having taken this movement ten times, which is enough for a beginner, try the second one, which is the reverse.

Raise the body to a sitting position without touching the hands to the bed.

You will have to make a spring to do this at first, but the right way to do it is to come up gradually by the pull of the muscles of the back and leg.

Bend the body forward as far as you can and catch hold of your toes.

Touch the forehead to the knees, if you are able.

You can't do it at first, unless you are remarkably supple and perhaps it will be a long time before you can.

But if the abdomen is inclined to pursiness this will be the best thing you could do to reduce it.

Keep the legs straight so as to stretch the muscles of the back and stomach well.

I do these two exercises night and morning and I have done them so long I don't have to think about them.

It's part of my getting up.

The best movement I know of is the one I shall recommend to take after you get out of bed.

First, stretch the body by lifting the hands over the head and drawing in a long breath.

Then bend forward, keeping the knees straight, and touch the floor with the tips of your fingers.

If you can't touch it come as near to it as you can, and then raise the body and bend backward as far as you can go, keeping the arms outstretched.

The first part of this movement exercises the same organs that the previous two exercises did.

The last part of it is good for the kidneys and the chest and lungs, squeezing the first and expanding the second.

This movement will make you breathe fast and fill your lungs with fresh air and accumulated gases will be expelled.

I vary this movement by placing my hands on the small of my back and flexing my knees.

Then I bend as far back as I can, which stretches the muscles over the stomach and gives that organ a massage, and then bending the body forward until it is horizontal with the floor.

The value of this movement would be greater for stout women than thin, as it tightens the muscles in front and the muscles across the stomach and bowels and tends to reduce flesh.

Now place the hands on the hips and move the body from side to side, bending as far over as possible.

This is also a liver squeezer and will reduce corpulency.

All these exercises should be done at least ten times, but as you do them you will find yourself making it easier and easier, and you will be able to do them 25 times without trouble.

These five movements are the best general exercises I know for a woman. They are just as good for a man, but I believe they will cure a weak back, which so many women complain of, and that will help her to stand right.

They will keep her from getting heavy and make her supple.

This will add to her gracefulness, and every woman wants to be willowy, I suppose.

They are fine for the general circulation of the blood, and best of all they will positively cure indigestion.

I don't promise they will do it in a month; they must be continued every morning and at the end of three months they will have proved what I say.

After these exercises take a cold plunge.

The colder the water is the better.

Take the bath quickly, rub off with a crash towel until the body is in a glow, and when you are dressed you will be ready to enjoy your breakfast.

If sleeplesseness is an ailment from which any one suffers let him take this entire program before going to bed, the cold bath and all.

This draws the blood away from the head.

Don't take these exercises sooner than two hours after eating, however.

Tomorrow I will give some exerciser for building up the thin, scrawny woman who is reduced in strength.

THE FIRST LESSON, PRINTED IN YESTERDAY'S POST-DISPATCH, TOLD HOW A WOMAN COULD INCREASE HER VITALITY, AND HOW SHE SHOULD STAND AND WALK.

Anglo-Chinese Treaty Safe.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—The difficulty in the way of the conclusion of the Anglo-Chinese commercial treaty has been satisfactorily settled. A new edict will be issued and the treaty will be signed after certain technical alterations have been made.

A ST. LOUIS BEAUTY ON THE STAGE

ISABEL DELMONT, NEE MULHALL, IN "A COUNTRY GIRL."

TO PLAY AT DALY'S, NEW YORK

As Miss Mulhall, Mrs. Demont Was Chosen as a Model to Typify St. Louis in a Well-Known Picture.

Isabel Delmont, who will soon appear in "A Country Girl," to be put on at Daly's Theater in New York, was Miss Isabel Mulhall, daughter of John Mulhall of St. Louis. During the time she lived here she was as pre-eminent for her beauty of face and figure as for her charming personality.

When Miss Mulhall married and went to Chicago to live, she was said to be the most beautiful woman in that city.

When the new Planters' Hotel was built in St. Louis, a few years ago, John Wilton Cunningham, a medalist of the Paris Salon, was commissioned to paint a mural picture typical of the city of St. Louis. For all of the figures in the group, except one, he used professional models. For the central figure, which was to typify St. Louis, he wished to secure the girl with the most beautiful face and figure in the city.

His choice fell upon Miss Mulhall, and thanks to the influence of mutual friends, she was prevailed upon to pose in a graceful, flowing Grecian costume of pure white. Miss Mulhall became, not long after this incident, the wife of R. A. Delmont, an operator on the Chicago Board of Trade, and went to live in that city, where her beauty at once attracted widespread attention. Her husband met with reverses recently and she turned to the stage.

COUPLE GAVE WRONG ADDRESS.

They Wished, It Is Said, to Keep Their Marriage Quiet.

Miss Mabel L. Mackay, who, the marriage records show, gave her address as 3737 Laclede avenue, was married in Clayton yesterday to John T. Fay, whose address was given at 3137 Morgan street.

At the Laclede avenue address it was said today that no one of the name of Mackay lived there, and that no one living there had been married. At the address recorded as the groom's it was said he did not live there, but did live at 3107 Morgan street. It was learned at the latter address that Mr. Fay, who is an electrician, boarded there until yesterday, when he left. Where he is now living his former landlady did not know.

It is said the couple desired to keep their marriage quiet for a time, but the reasons for that desire are not known.

Queen's Daughters to Meet.

The Queen's Daughters of East St. Louis will hold their first meeting of the season Thursday afternoon in St. Patrick's School Hall. They will reorganize and make plans for their winter's work.

FRANCIS TO BOOM THE FAIR ABROAD

HE WILL BE GUEST OF AMERICAN SOCIETY IN LONDON.

SAILS SOME TIME IN NOVEMBER

While in Europe Mr. Francis Will Visit Several Nations and Invite Rulers to St. Louis.

President Francis of the World's Fair has accepted an invitation to be the guest of honor at the Thanksgiving dinner of the American Society in London, which will afford an opportunity to promote the Exposition in Europe.

Mr. Francis will sail for England about the middle of November, probably accompanied by Mrs. Francis, who also is invited.

It is announced that the American Society will invite members of King Edward's cabinet and Englishmen who are leaders in the arts, literature and science, so that they may meet the head of the World's Fair enterprise.

While in Europe Mr. Francis expects to visit several nations, and it is stated that he will extend invitations to the rulers to visit the Fair as guests of the management and the United States government.

FOOD FOR THE GALLERY GODS

Half a Million Pounds of Ambrosial Tennessee Peanuts Just Brought in for Winter's Trade.

What does the St. Louis small boy care now about the coal famine? There are peanuts enough in the market to last all winter.

Three thousand sacks, containing half a million pounds of Tennessee "goobers," have been unloaded at the St. Louis wharf by the steamer City of Memphis, just in from a trip up the Tennessee river.

Never before were so many peanuts brought to St. Louis at one time. They are not the polished product handed out in paper bags from the night whistling stand on the street corner. They have never felt the civilizing influence of the roaster, and the damp earth and the long roots still adhere to them. These marks of their native soil will disappear before they are vended to the gallery gods or thrown into the candy makers' oven.

The peanut trade knows no wholly dull season, but its greatest activity comes in the months of minstrelsy and melodrama. Anticipation of a heavy season's business at the theaters may have had much to do with the big order confidently placed by St. Louis peanut jobbers with the southern growers of the nuts.

CERO-FRUTO

"An All-Day Food"

Wheat and Pure Fruit Combined

As an alterative for the present dietary evils the liberal use of CERO-FRUTO will more than meet expectations. By the use of CERO-FRUTO the digestive apparatus is afforded proper rest from its labors. Dumping into the stomach all sorts of indigestible eatables wears it out, burns it out and renders it inoperative, clogging the entire system, developing poison and often resulting in serious and acute illness. By the use of CERO-FRUTO the coated tongue will assume its natural color, and a good, healthy appetite and a clear head will follow.

In addition to the fact that CERO-FRUTO promotes health, its appetising qualities render it one of the most delicious adjuncts of the table. It is perfect and can be eaten with other digestible food without any disagreeable results.

As the average diet of today is very much overbalanced in favor of nonconcentrated and bulky foods, there is no immediate danger of consuming too much of concentrated foods. CERO-FRUTO is a concentrated food product, both satisfying and refreshing. As a dish for breakfast and lunch, as a dessert for the midday, or evening dinner, it has no equal. Sold by all grocers.

Samples free for the asking. Address

Cero-Fruto Food Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

Curse of DRINK

CURED BY

WHITE RIBBON REMEDY

No taste. No odor. Can be given in glass of water, tea or coffee without the patient's knowledge.

White Ribbon Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, a "tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for any one to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using White Ribbon Remedy.

Indorsed by Members of W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Moore, press superintendent of Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have tested White Ribbon Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and indorse White Ribbon Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find an economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Druggists or by mail, $1. Trial package free by writing Mrs. A. M. Townsend (for years secretary of a Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass. Sold in St. Louis by Judge & Dolph, 515 Olive st. and Fourth and Market sts.

FAKE HAIR PREPARATIONS

Do Hair No Good, but Often Cause It to Fall Out.

Many hair preparations are "fake" because they are merely scalp irritants. They often cause a dryness, making the hair brittle, and, finally, lifeless. Dandruff is the cause of all trouble with hair. It is a germ disease. The germ makes cuticle scales as it digs to the root of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing the hair to fall out. To cure dandruff the germ must be killed. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ, thereby leaving the hair to grow luxuriantly. Send 10c in stamps for sample. The Herpicide Co., 41 Jefferson av., Detroit, Mich.

FARMER WAS NOT THE "EASY ONE"

CITY MAN ENDED IN JAIL AFTER "ENTERTAINING" HIM.

RURALE A WILLING GUEST

After a Night Spent Mostly in Barrooms Urban Was Arrested Charged With Highway Robbery.

Caspar Roushelong, from Hillsboro, Ill., with seven carloads of hay to sell, was not so "easy" as he looked to Harry Brown, a habitue of the Third street commission row. In fact, Brown now thinks that he was the "easy" one. He has had several hours in which to consider this question in a cell at the Four Courts holdover.

In the first place, Brown erred in thinking that Mr. Roushelong had sold his hay. Such was not the case. In the next place, he underestimated the farmer's strength, and placed too much confidence in the effect which the curious liquors sold along Third street would have on the Hillsboro man.

Roushelong is a member of one of the old French families of his section, and owns 1000 acres of the richest farming land in Illinois. His air of prosperity attracted Brown's attention, and he made the farmer's acquaintance.

The man from the country was willing to see the city's sights, and to drink every time that his host paid the bartender. He was not unwilling to talk about his farm, and about the value of the hay which he had brought to the St. Louis market. That the hay was still in his possession he did not think to tell his entertainer, who concluded that crisp hundred dollar bills must be dilating Rouchelong's pockets. So he continued to ply him with drinks.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday morning Policemen Schleifstein and Riordan heard shouts from the mouth of an alley on Locust street, near Fourth. They made for the scene of the trouble and found a farmer pursuing a city man. The farmer was Rouchelong, the city man was Brown. They joined the chase and caught Brown.

"Tried to rob your uncle, that's what you did!" shouted the Illinois man accusingly at the other, whom he had nearly overtaken before the policemen arrived. He told the rest of the story after the man had been taken in charge by the police.

Brown is charged with attempted highway robbery in a warrant issued Wednesday morning.

CHURCH BUILDING CONDEMNED

Congregation Just Free From Debt Must Now Remodel or Abandon Its Building.

The congregation of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, at 2540 North Grand avenue, was just rejoicing in the announcement that the payment of the church debt of $3800 had been arranged for, when Building Commissioner Longfellow on Tuesday condemned the structure as unsafe and ordered that it be remodeled at a cost of about $2000.

The church was built in 1890. Recently the church extension committee of the denomination agreed to raise half the amount of the debt provided the congregation would raise the other half. The trustees have announced that the $1900 had been subscribed.

The building commissioner reports that the north and south walls of the church are out of plumb and the west wall and the tower are cracked. The main auditorium has been pronounced unsafe.

For the present the pastor, Rev. F. T. Connor, will hold services in the Sunday school room.

CRUTCH-BOUND

The crutch is a poor substitute for legs, and affords a very inconvenient and tiresome mode of locomotion—there is no more pathetic sight than a person slowly and painfully moving along the street supported by these artificial limbs.

When Rheumatism settles in the bones and muscles of the legs, it is safe to predict that the victim will eventually become helpless and crutch-bound. The corrosive, irritating matter that is deposited in the joints and muscles causes the most intense pain, the knees and ankles swell, and when the natural oils and fluids that lubricate these parts are completely destroyed the joints become locked and the muscles drawn and stiff, and crutches a necessity.

The acid poisons that produce rheumatic pains form in the blood, and are distributed through the system, and lodged in the arms, shoulders, hands, back and feet, or other parts of the body—resulting often in total disability. A permanent cure of Rheumatism can be effected only by a complete cleansing of the blood, and no other remedy so surely accomplishes this as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acid effects, purifies and invigorates the stagnant blood, and the gritty particles are washed out or dislodged by the new rich blood, and relief comes to the pain-racked sufferer. S. S. S. leaves no morbid, irritating matter in the blood to reunite and produce another attack, but expels every atom of it from the system. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and does not impair the digestion or general health like alkali or potash remedies.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF FINANCIAL AND MARKET DOINGS

RISING TIDE AGAIN IN BANK OF COMMERCE

STOCK RAISED $5 OVER THE CLOSE OF TUESDAY.

TRACTION ISSUES STAGNANT

Brisk Demand for Central Insurance Caused Another Substantial Gain to Be Made—Mechanics' Rather Unsettled.

National Bank of Commerce stock again occupied premier place on the Stock Exchange here today. There is, according to the "cue" on Fourth street, something of magnitude about to develop and the best opinion has it that the move will concern the entrance of new interests into the institution.

Tuesday the stock closed at around $400. Today, in the space of three minutes, it was run up from that figure to $405, and none too much for sale then.

Mechanics' National was again rather unsettled, shading off from $314 to $313.50.

There was a good, sharp demand for some of the other active banking shares, notably Fourth National and Third National, a small lot of which was picked up at $332, and $333 later bid, and also for South Side at $130.

A fractional advance in Missouri Trust was the feature therein, while Mercantile Trust again changed hands at yesterday's figure of $423. Following the sale of a small lot of American Central Trust at $175.50, the price was speedily raised to $177.

Commonwealth Trust old stock was bought at $308, the first trade in the stock in many days.

A continuance of strength in American Central Insurance stock came as the result of a wide discussion of the position of this industrial corporation by reason of very extensive holdings of St. Louis banking securities, the value of which assets have appreciated to limits which make an advance in the price of this stock a reasonable development.

The gain today was $3, to $288, where the market closed.

There was comparatively little interest in the syndicate street railway stocks, though St. Louis Transit hardened a bit before the close, the gain being the merest fraction, however, to $31.25.

Railways preferred were sluggish and unchanged, while a bond went to $87.12½.

In general, the miscellaneous industrial list was neglected, though there was a good tone indicated by the quotations established.

WALL STREET.

Prices all around were a good fraction higher, particularly in Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and Atchison. Reading opened with a resumption of yesterday's enormous dealings, the first transactions representing 20,000 shares at from 75½ down to 75, compared with yesterday's final figure of 75⅝. Southern Pacific also opened wide, 16,000 shares being bought at 80¼, a gain over night of nearly one point. Trading was very active and quite widely distributed.

After the opening May stocks reacted, especially Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul & Louisville, which sold about a point below their highest. Reading went below 75, but another violent upward rush of the stock carried it to 78 and caused the general market to harden again. Amalgamated, Anaconda, Sugar, General Electric, Manhattan, Missouri Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande and Norfolk & Western also were in increased demand and a point or more higher. Rock Island jumped 2½, Detroit United Rail 2 and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 5 points. Heavily realizing orders in Reading poured into the market later, causing a reaction of over a point, with some effect on the entire list. Southern Pacific fell back to last night's close and there were some prominent stocks which receded to a fraction below. Colorado Fuel lost over 2 points.

There were a few isolated points of strength, including Tennessee Coal and some of the other minor industrials. Prices elsewhere meanwhile reacted sharply on realizing and the subsequent announcement of a slight accident to President Roosevelt. Earlier gains were quite generally wiped out and Reading dropped below 76 before it met support. Trading then became very dull, but the tone was steadier before midday. Reading rallied to the best again.

Bonds were irregular.

The market was spotty, special stocks mounting vigorously, while others were at a standstill. The pools went to work again with confidence in their favorites when more reassuring news was received regarding the accident to the President's party. Reading touched 78¾ with a good deal heard of competitive buying, etc., and St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central, Manhattan and North American advanced about two points each. New York Central declined 4 points, while Keokuk & Des Moines gained 3.

Norfolk & Western became the leading feature, and was bought in large amounts up to 78¾, a gain of 4 points. Others of the coal stocks responded sympathetically, particularly Hocking Valley and Chesapeake & Ohio. Elsewhere the tendency was drooping. St. Paul, Reading and Amalgamated ruling a point below their best. North American advanced 7 points, and there were material gains in many other obscure stocks. By 2 o'clock the market was very active again, and prices rising all around.

Frosts in the Northwest Frighten the Bears—Wheat Receipts Disappointing—Cables Firm.

Grain.

The speculative situation in grain, which had become unpleasantly dull and uninteresting, was livened up Wednesday by the breaking in of a large number of bears, who wanted out, and before the closing bell rang they got there. So earnest were they in their desires that they paid ⅜@½c to 1c advance for wheat, 1⅜c for Sept. and 1⅛c for Dec. corn and ½c for oats. Too much of a cold frosty morning in the northwest stirred up the wheat and corn shorts, but that bogie man they call manipulation came to the front also and helped work them up and out. Quite an increase in the visible supply of bull sentiment in wheat can be seen now, based upon domestic and foreign demands, which are not near as good as when nearly everyone was bearish. Coarse grains look to be a purchase on breaks.

WHEAT—The weekly government report confirmed the statements of spring wheat sprouting in the shock, and that threshing greatly interfered with in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, all of which due to rains, but the weather map of Wednesday morning showed an absence of rains and settled conditions in the entire spring wheat country. There were, however, freezing temperatures and killing frosts in Manitoba that might damage the crop where not fully matured.

The weather, however, did not cut as much of a figure in the market as for some time past, though the Northwestern conditions exerted some influence. The fact that of 531 cars in Chicago not one car graded contract had most effect by bringing over specter of manipulation to the front to alarm the shorts. Another strengthing factor was a firm Liverpool market at further advances of ⅛@¼d, though weather reported fine in England. Paris, steady to ¼c lower. Receipts were not of volume enough to help the bear side. Here at St. Louis 129,300 bu arrived, which 54,000 bu larger than a year ago, but 93,000 bu smaller than a week ago, and at Minneapolis and Duluth only 414 cars against 740 cars last year.

September sold ⅜@½c higher at 64⅝c though at one time offered at 64¼c. Dec. opened where it closed Tuesday at 65⅞ and advanced to 65⅞c. May sold at 68⅝c to 69c.

Before the keen edge wore off the buying, which was chiefly for shorts, though some notable for long account. Advances were paid off at ⅝@¾c, and there was no material recession from this. Bradstreet's report on visible supplies was bearish, primary receipts were little smaller than a year ago, but clearances were good. Closing cables reported unchanged to ¼d higher for the day, latter for September; Paris, ¼@½c lower for wheat and unchanged to 20 centimes lower; Antwerp unchanged.

September sold up to 64⅞c, back to 64½c, and then back to 64¾@⅞c. December went to 66¼@¼c, and May sold at 68⅞c to 69c.

Bradstreet's reported 2,908,000 bushels increase in the world's visible last week, against 620,000 bu. increase a year ago, and indicated 531,000 increase at points outside the regular visible. Primary receipts were 1,209,000 bu., against 1,274,000 bu. one year ago, and shipments 861,000 bu., against 702,000 bu. last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 661,000 bu.

The rest of the session was devoted mainly to the cleaning up of shorts who didn't like the market conditions and some buying by bulls who did. Nothing particularly bullish was heard in domestic or foreign demands. The best was here in St. Louis, the cheapest market where domestic milling and shipping demands continued good, though hardly up to last week's. The seaboard reported 29 loads for export.

The buying by shorts maintained prices, September selling at 65c, closing at 64¾@64⅞c bid. December did not go above 66⅜c and at close 66¼@66⅜c bid. May sold at 69¼c and 69¼@69¼c bid at close.

Cash market: Received 11,076 sacks and 114 cars local and two cars through. Higher, soft winter gaining an average of ½c on all desirable milling and shipping grades. Offerings were smaller and principal demand for shipment, but considerable sold to go to elevator. Only sale from store was 5000 No. 2 red at 2c over September, loaded, east side. By sample, delivered: No. 2 red at 67c to 67½c, latter destination weights, east side; No. 3 red at 64½@65c west and 64¾@65¼c east side; No. 4 at 62½c to 63½c; rejected at 59c to 61c; no grade at 50c to 56c; No. 3 white at 65c west side. Hard winter in better demand, though still limited. No. 2 sold at 69c for choice an ordinary quotably 67c; No. 3 at 62½@63c to 66@66½c for poor to choice.

CORN—In its weekly statement the government said the crop in Iowa and eastern Nebraska would require nearly a month to mature, but otherwise spoke generally in a favorable way of the conditions, reporting early corn being cut in Missouri and Kansas, in the latter state being marketed and fed to stock. This statement, however, regarding the length of time necessary to mature the crop in the northern portion of the corn belt had a bullish effect upon the speculative markets, as temperatures Wednesday morning were low in the Northwest, down to and below freezing in the British possessions, with frosts and conditions favorable for frosts in the territory where the crop is not beyond danger. Besides the weather were firm cables and an advance of ⅛d in Liverpool and small receipts, only 15,300 bu being posted for St. Louis, against 21,600 bu one year ago.

September was urgently sought after by shorts, opening ⅜c higher at 55½c and rapidly advancing to 56⅝c. December opened ¼c higher at 36c, sold up to 36⅜@36½c and later 36½c bid. For May 36¾c bid.

The demand from shorts became more and more strenuous when it was seen that the advance failed to bring out any free selling, and 2⅜c advance was paid before the 12 o'clock bell sounded. The other options were strengthened by the fear of frost and the large advance in September, but they made no such gain in price, December advancing 1c and May ⅝c.

September sold up to 57½c, December to 36¾c and May at 36⅞c to 37c.

Bradstreet's reported 77,000 bu more decrease in available supplies last week than the regular visible showed. Primary receipts were 134,000 bu, against 684,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 186,000 bu, against 407,000 bu last year. Clearances only 4200 bu.

September was neglected during the balance of the day and closed nominally at 57½c. December sold up to 36⅞, and off to 36⅝c, which was bid at the close. May sold at 37¼c to 37c, and latter was asked at the close. New York reported nine loads taken for export.

Cash market—Received 12 cars local and 5 cars through. Higher. Offerings small and all good grades sold readily, though the demand is still limited. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 57½c west side; No. 3 at 56@56½c east and 57c west side; No. 2 white at 61c west and east side; No. 3 white at 61c west side; musty white at 55c. No. 2 yellow quotable at 57½@58c and No. 3 yellow at 57c.

OATS—Moderate receipts, 55,350 bu coming in here, against 34,800 bu one year ago, the strength in cash and the advance in corn increased the desire to buy, which already the popular side with most traders. Where it wasn't the people who felt bearish were afraid to sell.

September sold at 27¼c and December at 26¼c, advance of ¼c and ⅛c.

The market held well to its strength, but speculation became very light, the only trading in December at 26⅜c. Bids were 27⅜c for September and 28¼c for May.

Bradstreet's available increased 131,000 bu more than the regular visible did last week.

Primary receipts were 698,000 bu, against 605,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 415,000 bu, against 262,000 bu last year. Nothing cleared.

The tone was strong to the close, when there were buyers at 27¼c (sold at that) for September, and 2[illegible]c for December. The cash market was firm and higher.

Cash market—Received 30 cars local and 11 cars through. Higher and in demand, offerings being well cleaned out through purchases by local and shipping houses mainly. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 30c; No. 3 at 2[illegible]c. No. 4 at 26½@27½c; no grade at 25c to 26½c; No. 3 white at 36c; No. 4 white at 32@35½c for poor to choice. No. 2 white quotable at 37c.

RYE—Higher and in much better demand, especially good grades. Sales of No. 2 delivered East Side at 50½@50¾c and 51½c for fancy, and of No. 3 at 48½c.

Trade Topics.

Snow has returns from all the corn states which show an average condition for the crop of 83.3, against 88.9 a month ago. In the northern half of the belt the crop is late and must have frost immunity for at least two weeks longer than usual. If general killing frost is delayed until Sept. 15 the crop will be a large one, and if until the 25th it will break all records. Spring wheat condition when harvested was three points lower than on Aug. 1, or 88.2. Comparatively little threshing had been done up to the end of August, but with favorable weather it will now proceed rapidly. Present indications justify a crop expectation of at least 200,000,000 bushels in Minnesota and the Dakotas, or a total spring wheat crop of fully 300,000,000 bushels. There seems yet no reason to lower the previous estimate of a total wheat crop this year of 750,000,000 bushels.

Talks with a number of St. Louis receivers indicate a falling off in farmers' deliveries of wheat, both in Missouri and Illinois. The farmers who were obliged to sell have about let go of all they had to dispose of, and those now holding can afford to do so, and are looking for better prices before they resume selling freely again. Many of them are busy plowing, and will hardly begin threshing from the stack until they are through plowing. Considerable of the stacked wheat in Illinois has already been threshed, it is said.

Broomhall cabled: "The favorable weather in the United Kingdom, with showers in some sections and heavy storms in others, holding wheat steady." Earlier cables reported the weather fine in England.

The total stock in St. Louis public elevators decreased Tuesday 94,000 bu, of which 43,000 bu. was in No. 2 red. This wheat was withdrawn from shipment.

The department of Agriculture estimates the condition of cotton as 64; against 84.7 a month ago, 81.9 a year ago and 71.4 two years ago.

The Northwestern Miller wires that its Argentine correspondent cables, "Wheat crop throughout the Argentine damaged by drouth."

The country shipper of oats should note the fact that in cash oats, especially the low grades, the St. Louis market has Chicago "skinned to death" in the prices realized.

The prospects are for another week of large clearances in flour and wheat and for a small increase in the wheat visible, a decrease, indeed, not improbable. One year ago the visible increased 650,000 bu.

Bradstreet's reported 808,000 bu increase last week in available stocks of wheat east of the Rockies, against 1,920,000 bu decrease one year ago, and indicating 531,000 bu increase at points outside the regular visible last week. European supplies afloat and ashore increased 2,100,000 bu, so that the world's visible increased 2,908,000 bu, where a year ago it decreased 620,000 bu. The corn available decreased 423,000 bu last week, against 756,000 bu increase a year ago, and 346,000 bu decrease last week in the regular visible. Oats available increased 992,000 bu, against 1,024,000 bu increase a year ago and 861,000 bu increase last week in the visible.

A letter from New Prague, Minn., to the J. B. Buss Flour Mills, says: "More or less damage has been done to the crop by adverse weather conditions attendant upon harvest. The conditions vary, and some sections will have an excellent crop. Altogether, however, we rather think the yield will fall considerable short of that of last year for Minnesota and the two Dakotas."

FLOUR AND FEED.

FLOUR—On yesterday's more numerous cables considerable business was worked for export, at least 5000 sacks being worked, but today very few cables received, and no sales reported. Orders on domestic account were few.

Quotations are as follows: New soft wheat flour in wood—Patents, $3.15@3.25; straights, $3@3.10; extra fancy, $2.85@2.95; clear, $2.70@2.80; low grades, $2.40@2.60. New hard winter in jute sacks—Patents, $3@3.15; straights, $2.75@2.40; old, 15@25c. Spring wheat, patent, $3.40@3.60, bulk. Foregoings prices for lots from first hands, track or at depot this side. Orders higher.

RYE FLOUR—In a jobbing way at $2.60@2.70 in jute sacks and $2.80@2.90 in wood for new. Mixed and inferior less.

CORNMEAL, ETC.—F. o. b.: City meal at $2.90; grits, hominy and pearl meal at $3.20.

MILLFEED—The advance in corn did no better this market, as offerings liberal of soft winter feed from Missouri and Illinois mills, though Kansas mills reported well sold up. Soft winter bran salable east track basis at 64c in large and 65c in small sacks and for bulk 62c bid; mixed feed in 100s worth 72c. Spot bran in 100s west side at 66@67c. At mill bran sells at 65@67c and ships at 90@95c.

HAY.

Received, 1940 tons local and 368 tons through; shipped, 790 tons. Large offerings, composed mainly of medium and lower grades of timothy, for which demands entirely inadequate. Only best qualities sell with any readiness. Prairie holds steady and meets a fair demand. Good clover also in demand.

Quote timothy on east side: New, $11.50@12; No. 1, $10.50@11.50; No. 2, $8@9.50; lower grades at $6@8. Clover—No. 1 at $12. Prairie, on west side—Choice, $9; No. 1, $8@8.50; No. 2, $6.50@7.50.

STRAW—Wheat on track, $4.50.

TO MOTHERS

Mrs. J. H. Haskins, of Chicago, Ill., President Chicago Arcade Club, Addresses Comforting Words to Women Regarding Childbirth.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Mothers need not dread childbearing after they know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. While I loved children I dreaded the ordeal, for it left me weak and sick for months after, and at the time I thought death was a welcome relief; but before my last child was born a good neighbor advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I used that, together with your Pills and Sanative Wash for four months before the child's birth;—it brought me wonderful relief. I hardly had an ache or pain, and when the child was ten days old I left my bed strong in health. Every spring and fall I now take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it keeps me in continual excellent health."—MRS. J. H. HASKINS, 3248 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill. — $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

MRS. J. H. HASKINS.

Care and careful counsel is what the expectant and would-be mother needs, and this counsel she can secure without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Grains opened firm on colder weather today, West and Northwest, and the weekly government report, which indicated retarded maturity of crops because of bad weather. Wheat started with Sept. ⅛@¼c up at 70⅝c to 70⅝c and Dec. unchanged to ⅛c higher at 67⅛c to 67⅜c. Predictions of frosts as far south as Iowa started good buying. Wheat in some sections of the Northwest was reported sprouting in the shock because of the excessive rains during Aug. These factors took Sept. wheat to 71⅜c and Dec. to 67⅜@67⅞c. Local receipts were 531 cars, but no contract stuff was at hand. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 414 cars, making a total for the three points of 945, against 435 last week.

There was a slight dip back in wheat prices after the first upward movement, but excellent buying set in again on the frost scare and Sept. sold to 71⅜c, closing strong, 1@1½c up at 71½@71⅝c. Dec. closed strong with the same relative advances at 68¼@68⅜c.

Frost talk and the government report started fair buying in corn early. The demand improved on the nervousness of shorts over the weather situation and prices advanced over 1c during the first hour of trade. Sept. opened ⅝c to ⅛c up at 58c to 57½c and sold at 58½c. Dec. started ¼c to ⅜c higher at 42⅞c to 43c and advanced to 43⅝c. Receipts were 149 cars.

The close was strong, Sept. 1⅛c up at 58½c, and Dec. 1c higher at 43⅝c.

Oats developed firmness early in sympathy with other grains. There was some fair early buying. Receipts were 774 cars, 11 of contract grade. Shorts showed some fear and prices advanced. Sept. started ⅛c up at 34⅝c and sold to 34⅝c. Dec. started unchanged at 31c and sold to 31⅛c.

Provisions were dull, but steady early. Jan. pork started unchanged at $14.85 and sold at $14.92½; Oct. lard opened 2½c lower at $9.70 and Oct. ribs 2½c down at $9.85.

NOTES FROM FOURTH STREET.

Local financial circles have discussed with some interest the steadily sagging tndency in Title Guaranty Trust Co. shares since this corporation was first formed.

Though not due to any specific causes, outside of renewed opposition, the stock has now depreciated $37 and there is not any too much support at these prices. The dividend has not been cut down, however, and this is regarded as ample evidence of the stability of the company, and the permanency of its present earning power.

Notwithstanding the litigation in which the People's Gas Co. of Chicago is involved, there is reason to believe a dispatch said this morning that the position of People's Gas Co., at present time, is much improved over its status at this time last year. The gross earnings are 10 per cent heavier than they were last year, and there is every reason to anticipate a further gain in these receipts, according to officials of this company.

The long-expected and deferred movement in Consolidated Tobacco 4s seems at last to have begun, and there is no reason to expect that rising tide in these bonds will not continue for some days. A pool formed some months ago is understood to have been revived, and will probably make an active and broader market in the course of the next few weeks.

The various Illinois coal properties which have enhanced in value, and which are enjoying a profitable year included Consolidated, which company is marketing its product along with other companies at remunerative figures. Trade circles agree that this will be a banner year for the business.

A dispatch from Washington says: The monthly circulation statement, compiled by the comptroller of the currency, shows that at the close of business, Aug. 30, 1902, National bank notes' total circulation was $361,282,691, an increase for the year of $1,851,536, and an increase for the month of $2,256,507. The circulation based on United States bonds, December $8,998,764 from last year, now being $319,407,587. The amount of United States registered bonds on deposit to secure circulating notes, was $322,941,680 and to secure public deposit, $124,667,150.

There was a sharp advance in price for Wabash debenture bonds today, and the New York market for this semi-speculative issue, crossed 78 early in the session to 78¼, with dealings quite large. It is rumored that interest may be declared at the regular rate at the next semi-annual period.

RAIN IS PLENTIFUL IN THE CORN BELT

EARLY PLANTING NEEDS SUNNY WEATHER TO MATURE IT.

APPLE CROP LIGHT BUT FINE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The government's weekly crop report is as follows:

Missouri—Drouth in southeast thoroughly broken, and cotton, late corn and pastures improved, but cool weather and continued rains in north and west further damaged grain in stack, retarded plowing and proved unfavorable for early corn, which needs dry, sunny weather to properly mature. Corn cutting progressing slowly. Cotton picking begun. Apple crop generally very light, but of fine quality.

Illinois—A good week for maturing corn and prospects improved in southern district. Bulk of crop probably safe from frost by Sept. 20. Oat threshing progressing. Grain injured considerably by wet weather. Pastures, clover and gardens good. Potatoes yielding well, but rotting somewhat. Apple prospects improved, crop large in localities and quality good where crop is light.

Indiana—Week dry. Temperature slightly above normal. Early corn filled well and maturing rapidly, cutting begun. Late corn needs rain. Exceptionally large crop of potatoes assured. Tobacco maturing unevenly, some housed, some not topped. Tomato crop fair; canning factories in operation. Excepting very few orchards, apple crop light. Rain badly needed for plowing and pastures.

Nebraska—Cool, moist week. Haying and threshing retarded and some hay damaged by rain. Some damage to wheat and oats by sprouting in shock and stack. Corn has grown well and continues to promise large crop, but is maturing very slowly. Warm, dry weather needed.

Kansas—Heavy rain in corn belt, greatly improving late corn, but retarding cutting, plowing and haying. Late corn green and growing. Much early corn cut, some being marketed and fed. Rains spoiled some hay, sprouted wheat and oats in stack and stopped threshing. Apples falling in several counties; quality good.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory—Drouth relieved by rain, but late crops considerably damaged. Second and top cotton crops damaged over southern portion by heat and bollworms, bottom crop being secured and giving fair to good yields. Broom and kaffir corn, cane and corn giving fair to good yields. Plowing well advanced. Fruit withering.

Alabama—Rains copious to heavy, except light in southern and some northern counties, but too late for cotton and corn. Cotton picking being pushed; yield still very light; has premature opening, but considerable rust and shedding; rain damaged much open cotton. On some hillsides cotton is a failure. Corn generally poor. Much fodder saved. Minor crops slightly improved.

Mississippi—General rains, excessive in central counties, but too late to benefit cotton. Open cotton damaged by wind and rain; crop deteriorating in all portions of the state; boll worms and weevil more prevalent; crop over half open on uplands and yield very light in greater portion of state. Pastures and late crops revived.

Louisiana—Hot, dry week, except scattered showers in east portion. Early cotton opening rapidly; picking progressing slowly; hot weather retarded work generally, and pickers scarce in some localities. Dry weather is injuring late cotton and second growth general. Rain would improve sugar cane, but crop is doing well, except in scattered localities. Rice harvest and thrashing progressing. Corn being gathered.

Texas—Extremely hot and dry, with uninterrupted sunshine. Drouth serious over greater portion of state. Cotton picking progress rapid and in some sections nearing completion. Cotton has continued to fall and is being disastrously affected by the intense heat and drouth, and in many localities by boll worms and weevil. The cotton situation is gloomy and discouraging, and while favorable weather conditions in the near future would cause a marked improvement in cotton all reports indicate that under any circumstances the ultimate yield will fall much short of an average crop. June corn, vegetables and pastures are drying up, and stock water is becoming scarce.

Arkansas—Light, scattered showers, with high temperature. Cotton deteriorated, damaged by heat, rust and boll worms, and is opened prematurely; slight prospects of top crop; picking not general, being delayed by heat. Late corn damaged by drouth in northern counties, some being cut. Minor crops suffering. Apples rotting and dropping.

Tennessee—Good rains in western and portions of middle division very beneficial to late crops, except cotton. East portions still dry and crops suffering materially. Late corn promises good yield, except in east. Cotton opening rapidly and picking in full progress; rust bad in many places. Tobacco improved by rains, some topped. Rains greatly facilitated plowing. Much good hay and fodder saved.

MISSOURI CROP CONDITIONS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 3.—The Missouri weekly crop bulletin follows:

The week just closed averaged slightly cooler than usual in all sections of the state except the southwest, with less than the normal amount of sunshine. Heavy rains fell in nearly all sections on the 25th, 26th or 27th, and the drouth in the extreme southeastern counties has been thoroughly broken. Over a majority of the remainder of the state in the central and southeastern, and nearly all of the southeastern counties, the rainfall for the week exceeded 2 inches, many localities receiving from 3 to over 4 inches, while over the remainder of the state the fall generally exceeded 1 inch.

In many of the northern, central and western counties threshing has been further delayed by the heavy rains and there is much complaint of wheat and oats sprouting and rotting in the stacks. Plowing for wheat has also been retarded in many counties, the ground being too wet, but generally in those districts where it has previously been too dry the soil is now in good condition. As a result of the continued wet weather much of the wheat land is covered with a rank growth of weeds. Very little wheat has yet been sown.

The week has been unfavorable for the cutting and curing of the millet and the prairie hay and some hay has been lost in a number of the northern and western counties, also in Dunklin County the heavy rains have caused streams to overflow, doing some damage to crops on bottom lands.

In portions of the southern sections the rains have been of much benefit to the late corn, but they have been rather detrimental, preventing the early corn from ripening and drying out as it should. The crop has not been injured yet except in a few localities, where it has been blown down, but dry sunny weather is now needed to mature in good condition. Cutting is in progress in many counties and in some of the southern counties is nearly completed, but much of the corn that is practically matured remains too green to be put in shocks. In a few of the southern counties late corn has been damaged by chinch bugs.

Cotton in the extreme southeastern counties is generally doing well and picking has begun. In portions of Dunklin County, however, there is complaint of rust and shedding. Tobacco is doing well. Late forage crops are making excellent growth, and an abundance of fall pasturage is practically assured in most sections. In some of the southeastern counties young clover was badly killed out by the recent drouth. Late potatoes are generally doing nicely, but early potatoes continue to rot badly in some localities.

Special reports regarding apples indicate that while the crop is far below the average in quantity, except in a few localities, the fruit will be of excellent quality. There is still considerable complaint of dropping and much damage by bitter rot is reported in a number of the southeastern counties.

CROP OUTLOOK IN ILLINOIS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 3.—The Illinois weekly crop bulletin is as follows:

The early part of the past week was cool, but the latter part was moderately warm. Generally fair weather prevailed during the week, however, light showers in the northern part of the state and moderate to heavy rains over the southern part. The rains in the northern part of the state were insufficient to interfere with farm work, while in the southern part, though the work was interrupted to some extent, the showers were beneficial to growing crops, and have put the ground in good condition for plowing. Considerable plowing and preparing of ground for seeding has been done, and in a few localities some rye has been seeded.

Threshing has progressed rapidly under the favorable conditions of the past week. There has been considerable damage to oats in shock by the previous wet weather, but in many localities this damage was less than had been feared would result. There has also been some damage to unthreshed wheat in the central district. The weather of the past week has been very favorable for corn, and it has generally advanced rapidly toward maturity. The yield promises to be heavy. In the southern district the recent rains have improved the prospects decidedly, especially of late corn. Reports as to the time when the crop will be safe from injury by frost vary considerably, in a few localities, especially in the southern half of the state, early corn is now reported to be safe, while in others it is believed that the crop will not be safe until after Oct. 1. With favorable conditions, however, the bulk of the crop promises to be safe by Sept. 15 to 20. Chinch bugs are reported to be doing some damage in a few localities, but the damage is slight. Some corn has been cut for fodder. Broom-corn harvest is progressing. The crop is generally reported to be good.

Pastures are generally in good condition. A generally good second crop of clover is being cut or is ready to cut. Potatoes are yielding well, but the rotting some. Gardens are good. The apple crop has generally improved. The yield will be large in some localities, and where the fruit has escaped the ravages of the fruit is generally good. Other fruit prospects vary from poor to good.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE. REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

Westminster Place

BUILDING LOTS.

We direct the attention of parties contemplating the purchase of a home site to the beautiful lots on Westminster Place between Lake avenue and Union. There are only a few of these lots remaining, some on North side and some on the South side of street; the others are covered by very handsome homes, several being now under construction.

FULLY RESTRICTED LOTS.

These lots are so restricted that a purchaser has the assurance that when he erects a home no objectionable improvements can be erected near him.

These lots are near the park, in a convenient and central district of the West End, yet on an exclusive and quiet residence street, where, owing to wise provisions, no car lines can ever encroach.

Our signs are on the lots. See them soon. Can sell in sizes to suit home builders. Price $120.00 per foot. The most desirable residence ground in the West End at the price. Prices are certain to advance.

DESPERATE BATTLE IN THE MIMIC WAR

FOUR BIG SHIPS IN ATTACK ON FORT WRIGHT.

FIRING LASTED TWO HOURS

Attempt to Land Party Thwarted by Gatling Guns, but Result Is Not Yet Known.

FORT TRUMBULL, NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 3.—Headquarters of the Army of Defense—Early this morning the naval enemy made its third attack on the forts of New London district. It is said to have been the most effective as well as most spectacular move that has taken place since the maneuvers began.

The firing began at 5:50 and continued almost incessantly for two hours, being directed at Fort Wright, Fisher's Island. The attacking squadron was composed of the battleships Kearsarge, Alabama, Massachusetts and Indiana.

The sun was well up when the four ships were seen coming from the direction of Gardiner's Bay, where they were at anchor last night.

Just as soon as the first ship was within firing distance, she was fired upon from Fort Michie, but no attention was paid to this warning, for the ships came right along, heading in the direction of Fort Wright, it seemingly being the purpose to capture that strongly fortified place, believed to be capable with the aid of Forts Michie and Terry of coping with the strongest fleet afloat.

The ships kept pretty well out in passing Race Rock light, but made no attempt to enter into an engagement with either Michie or Terry, very few guns being fired from these forts during the two hours of fighting.

It was a determined attack on Fort Wright and the firing from the guns and mortars of the fort was kept up incessantly as the four ships formed in line of battle and sailed slowly by the fort, exchanging shot for shot as far as possible.

After passing the fort the ships made a detour and then swung well in toward Fisher's Island and commenced the bombardment after two ships each had taken position at the front and rear of Fort Wright.

Shots were directed at the signal station on Prospect Mount, which is said to have been put out of action. Col. Davis, commanding the district, was at the signal station. The firing was kept up for about half an hour, when the ships sailed well out toward the race again, the defenders believing the ships were to retreat in the direction whence they came.

Suddenly the ships turned and again made a vigorous attack on Fort Wright, this time attempting to make a landing. One of the big ships drew in pretty close to the fort, and with rapid fire covered the landing party, but in opposition to this movement, the Gatling guns at the fort were brought into requisition and the landing party was evidently repelled, or rather that particular phase of this attack was not considered successful. After the conclusion of this second attack the ships steamed out into the race and back in the direction of Block Island.

Both on the passage to and from Fort Wright the ships made attacks on Fort Mansfield at Napatree Point, and it is quite likely that Mansfield has been reduced by the enemy, and perhaps the enemy will claim Fort Wright, for the ships certainly did put up the fiercest kind of a naval attack.

They were handled skillfully and their fire was very effective. Still, army officers claim that Fort Wright was competent to contend with four battleships without assistance from Forts Michie and Terry. The latter forts did not take a very active part in the maneuvers this morning, perhaps not over twenty shots being fired from both these forts at the battleships engaging Fort Wright.

The result of this morning's conflict will not be known until the umpire's report, and perhaps it will be the occasion of much discussion on the part of the board of arbitration.

It was a most magnificent attack and an able defense, from the strategic standpoint.

CUTTHUNK, via Pasque Island, Mass., Sept. 3.—A fleet of eight warships was sighted this morning, moving from the westward towards New Bedford. Among them were the Olympia, the Gloucester, the Brooklyn, a cruiser not identified, the Mayflower and the tugs Leyden and Nina. The fleet was west of Cuttihunk at 8 o'clock and the Puritan had joined the other vessels.

FISHER'S ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The signal station on Prospect Mount was put out of action at 5 o'clock this morning by ships of Admiral Higginson's fleet, which fired several times in that direction. Col. Davis, commanding the district, who was at his post in the station, went out of action with it.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 3.—Four ships, which could not be identified from the shore, owing to the haze, appeared off Ft. Rodman early this morning and at once opened fire. The fortifications speedily replied to the bombardment.

THE YOUNGER BOYS LONG TO SEE MISSOURI

Jim Wants to Marry and Both Are Seeking a Full Pardon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 3.—Cole and Jim Younger will apply to the next meeting of the Board of Pardons this fall for a full pardon.

Both desire to return to their old home in Missouri to spend the rest of their lives. Jim Younger also wishes to marry, which he cannot do without a full pardon.

W. W. Ramsey, a Missouri lawyer, is preparing their petition.

The board denied a similar application last spring, but on the grounds that the parole had been of too short duration at that time.

TWO SETS OF CANDIDATES

Republican Factions Both Name Men for Nominations on the City Ticket.

Two sets of candidates for nominations on the Republican city ticket will be placed before the voters of the party at the primary election to be held Sept. 16.

One, composed wholly of Republicans, was filed with the election commissioner by the members of the new city central committee, constituted by the action of the state executive committee. The other, on which the names of several Meriwether men appear, was filed by the members of the old committee, whom the state executive committee undertook to oust.

The names which appear on both tickets are those of Henry A. Clover for prosecuting attorney, George B. Sidener for judge of the court of criminal correction, Edwin Godron for clerk of the criminal court and Louis Zepp for clerk of the court of criminal correction. For the other offices there are two candidates, and for some three.

The decision between the rival committees as to their authority to name judges and clerks, will be settled when the members of the election board, now absent from the city, return. They will pass on the two lists of judges and clerks for the primary, and in so doing, will decide which committee is to have official recognition.

Republicans of both factions predict that the party split will eventually be taken into the courts, and this result may follow the action of the election commissioners, who are likely to be made the object of legal proceedings by the faction against which they decide.

7500 CARPENTERS ON STRIKE.

Demands of 3500 Were Complied With Quickly.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Seventy-five hundred out of 12,000 carpenters connected with the New York district council of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, struck yesterday for an advance in wages from $4 to $4.50 a day. Thirty-five hundred of the strikers won their demands almost immediately.

The Master Carpenters' Association has decided unanimously to refuse all further demands.

THIEF AWED PASSENGERS.

Terrorized Them With Razor Until He Escaped From Train.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Slashing to right and to left with a razor, a thief on the Third avenue elevated road terrorized a car full of passengers and held them at bay until he could escape from the train. He seriously injured a passenger and the guard.

After the train had passed Forty-seventh street, Edward Bergen, a passenger, saw the thief take another passenger's watch. He called the guard and together they attempted to capture the pickpocket.

As they closed in on him, he drew a razor and slashed Bergen twice, cutting gashes in both arms and the right thigh. His activity with the weapon caused tremendous excitement among the passengers, many of whom were women.

He shouted that he would kill any person who interfered and at the Fifty-third street station he jumped over the gate to the platform. A number of passenges hen took up the chase through the streets where they were joined by a large crowd, but the thief escaped.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY FROM SPRINGFIELD

TO BE BUILT TO EAST ST. LOUIS BEFORE WORLD'S FAIR.

COMPANY IS INCORPORATED

First Line to Be Built to Girard—Others Planned for Bloomington, Jacksonville and Decatur, Ill.

An electric railway from Springfield, Ill., to East St. Louis is projected by the Springfield & Central Illinois Railway Co., which was incorporated Tuesday, with a capital of $200,000.

It is proposed to build a trolley system radiating from Springfield, taking the place of the Everett-Moore syndicate, which failed to carry out its plans.

The incorporators are St. John Boyle and William Jarvis, Louisville, Ky., and C. K. Minary, P. B. Warren and Davis McKeown of Springfield. These gentlemen also finance the street railway systems of Springfield and Danville.

The first line in the new system is to be built from Springfield to Girard, connecting with a line to East St. Louis in time for the World's Fair.

Other lines planned are to run to Bloomington, Jacksonville and Decatur, Ill.

NEW HOME FOR THE AGED.

Little Sisters of the Poor Lay Their Cornerstone.

The cornerstone of the South Side home of the Little Sisters of the Poor, for old people, was laid Tuesday afternoon in the presence of the 33 aged persons whom the nuns of this order are now caring for.

The building, which is to cost $125,000, is located at Grand avenue and Cherokee street. It will be of brick, four stories high. The new building is appropriately placed under the patronage of St. Charles Borromeo, the saint for whom the late Charles B. Maffitt was named. The Maffitts family, in memory of Mr. Maffitt and Mrs. Julia Maffitt, donated $30,000 to the institution.

The Little Sisters of the Poor began their mission in South St. Louis two years ago. They care for 33 old men and women in three little dwelling houses.

Father Clement Moreman, provincial of the Franciscans, was the officiating priest at the laying of the cornerstone.

In the stone was placed, among other things, a record of the efforts leading to the erection of the building, beginning with the establishment of the Little Sisters of the Poor in St. Louis 33 years ago at the home on Hebert street.

PACKING COMBINE HALTS.

Constituent Companies Are Ordered Not to Turn in Schedules.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The combination of the big packing house interests has been stopped suddenly. Schedules of property which were being made in Boston and elsewhere in New England, to be filed at Chicago as a basis for taking over all the independent concerns were made up in a hurry and were all ready to send on Monday, that being the date when the valuation was to take place, but they did not go in as word was received from Chicago not to forward them.

BOY, 14 YEARS OLD, INTOXICATED

Charles Bloss, a Western Union Messenger, Taken Unconscious to the City Hospital.

Charles Bloss, 14 years old, wearing the uniform of the Western Union Telegraph Co., was placed in the city hospital early Wednesday morning, unconscious from intoxication.

Policeman Mahoney of the Fourth district found the boy lying on the sidewalk at Thirteenth and O'Fallon streets. He was unconscious and blood was flowing from a small cut on his head. Apparently the cut had been made by his fall on the sidewalk. There was nothing to show that anyone had molested him.

When he reached the hospital the boy was still in a stupor and the odor of liquor was strong on his breath. A party of the boy's fellow messengers visited the hospital and identified him. He had left the office without taking any message to deliver, they stated.

They said that Bloss lived at 2008 Biddle street.

At 8 o'clock Wednesday morning the boy had not recovered from the effects of the liquor. He resisted all attempts to awaken him, and muttered in maudlin fashion when attendants shouted questions in his ear and shook him.

The hospital physicians say that he must have absorbed a dangerously large quantity of liquor to produce such lasting intoxication. There was nothing to indicate where the intoxicant was obtained.

DON'T GET IN A SWEAT

Perspiration—"sweat" is what the Bible and we common people call it—is a way nature has of driving out of the body refuse that has no business there. We sweat more in summer, because, in the overheated bowels, undigested food ferments more quickly than in winter and produces irritating acids and gases. The bowels, overworked, try to relieve themselves by violent convulsions, causing terrible gripes and colics, and diarrhoeal discharges so acid as to make you sore, and leaving the intestines weak and worn out. Nature assists body-cleaning by sending the filth out through the pores of the skin. It is not safe to stop perspiring altogether but most of the impure matter should be sent out by the natural movements of the bowels, and the offensive, ill-smelling, linen-staining sweat done away with. Keep your bowels strong all summer with the pleasant, candy cathartic CASCARETS, that clean the system and don't allow the excrement to be sweated out through the pores. Take a tablet every night, before going to bed. They work while you sleep and make you feel fine and cool all day.

INDIAN WAREHOUSE IS OPENED HERE

LOCAL MERCHANTS TO BID ON BIG SUPPLY CONTRACTS.

ABOUT $3,000,000 ANNUALLY

Poor Lo's Agent Advertises for Dried Prunes and All Kinds of Commodities.

By the establishment of a United States Indian warehouse at 602 South Seventh street, St. Louis merchants and manufacturers will have the first call in bidding for supplying about $3,000,000 worth of goods every year to the wards of the government.

W. H. Blake, superintendent and disbursing agent of the new local enterprise, says that while local merchants will have competition from outside, they will have the best of it because the large item of freight rates is eliminated.

Heretofore St. Louis firms that offered bids for Indian supplies had to compete with Chicago, the nearest distributing point. New York and Denver are the other distributing points.

All kinds of supplies are to be purchased at t he new depot. The Indians use vast quantities of clothing, shoes, hats, medicines, foods, farming impliments and vehicles.

From St. Louis the goods will be shipped direct to the Indian agencies.

The local depot has advertised for bids on 175,000 pounds of dried prunes, which shows that Poor Lo is highly civilized, prunes being the chief article of diet in New York boarding houses.

PORTUGAL IN A BAD WAY.

Officials Defraud Government, Which Is in Sore Financial Straits.

LISBON, Sept. 3.—There is an epidemic of fraud in various parts of Portugal. Forgers of bank notes on a large scale have been arrested. Robberies of ammunition and war material from the arsenal at Lisbon have been discovered, and the government has been defrauded to the extent of $500,000 by excise men accepting bribes and enabling large breweries to evade duties.

Burglars entered Costas Bank here Monday night and stole $100,000. They entered by a subterranean passage, which they dug themselves, and broke open the safe.

Great excitement has been caused by the arrest of several high officials charged with defrauding the state to the extent of $400,000 and with accepting bribes.

The government is in great distress for money. The King has pawned many of the crown jewels to relieve his financial condition. The famous Broganza diamond and a jeweled saber are among the articles on which he has borrowed money.

Jim Dumps a little girl possessed
Whom loss of appetite distressed.
"I des tan't eat!" the child would scream.
Jim fixed a dish of "Force" with cream;
She tasted it, then, joy for him!
She begged for more from "Sunny Jim."
